TRAIL OF ROBBERS LEADS TO ATLANTA; BOHANNAN IS HELD

Federal Agents and City Detectives Are Searching for Solution of $100,000 Central, W. Va., Train Robbing Mystery Here.

SUIT CASE DISAPPEARS; ATLANTA MAN WATCHED

Dick Harrison Confesses in Grand Rapids, and Mrs. Rentz Declares That Officers Got Brother, Charlie Harrison, Here.

The arrest of one man, the adding to the list of suspects of another man, well known in Atlanta; the mysterious disappearance of a suit case and the unearthing of information concerning an alleged stencil machine were the new developments Tuesday in the Central, W. Va., train robbery being worked by federal agents and local detectives.

Meanwhile a news dispatch from Grand Rapids, Mich., states that Dick Harrison, under arrest there, has confessed to being the "brains" of the gang, which he declares has in the last year secured $500,000 worth of loot. This confession, it is stated, was gained from Harrison when he learned that he is dying and the confession was made for the purpose of freeing his wife, who is also under arrest. He is said to have revealed the location of the $100,000 in unsigned bank notes which was obtained in the West Virginia robbery.

Atlanta Man Watched.

Information obtained Tuesday to the effect that a man well known is Atlanta is being watched by federal authorities in connection with the Central, W. Va., train robbery, for the perpetration of which men are being held in custody in Grand Rapids, Mich.; Cincinnati, Ohio; San Antonio, Texas, and Atlanta, has thrown a new light on the sensational case, which, according to officers working it, bids fair to rival tales of the celebrated James Boys.

Starting with the arrest of Carl Rentz, 24 years old, machinist of this city, in Cincinnati Monday the case up until a late hour Tuesday night had progressed to the arrest of three other men suspected with having connection with it and to great activity on the part of Atlanta federal agents and city detectives.

Bohannan Arrested.

Jim Bohannan, an electrician, giving his residence as 113 Wells street, was arrested shortly after midnight Monday, the second to be apprehended in this city. He was lodged at police headquarters under charges of suspicion and all day Tuesday was at the federal building being put through close examination by Officers Cochran and Doyal with Postoffice Inspectors Berry and Graham.

Jeff Harrison, a brother of Dick, is in jail in San Antonio, Texas, in connection with the affair and it was stated at the residence of Carl Rentz late Tuesday night that Charlie Harrison, uncle of the young machinist and brother of the other two, had been taken away from that place Monday afternoon and had not been heard of since.

Although Mrs. W. C. Rentz, his sister and mother of Carl, said that her brother had been taken away from the residence by officers, no trace of him could be found by a Constitution representative who made inquiry at police headquarters, the county jail and the federal building.

The officers working the case refuse to talk, stating that at this particular time to give out any information concerning their work would ruin the work of months and throw the whole thing in the balance.

Inspector Berry admitted, however, that government agents were keeping watch upon an Atlanta man.

Suit Case With Money.

It was learned, Tuesday morning, that a suit case had arrived in Atlanta several days ago, and, according to reports, it contained a part of the money, which the officers are endeavoring so hard to find.

According to The Constitution's informant, the suit case remained at the Terminal station until a letter arrived

ALBANY ENGINEER LIES DOWN BY BABY AND KILLS HIMSELF

Albany, Ga., March 28.—(Special.)—W. D. Sandwich, 61, for many years an engineer of the Central of Georgia railway, blew his brains out this morning while despondent over illness.

He had been unable to work for more than a year and had threatened to end his own life. Weapons were carefully kept from him, but this morning he slipped into the kitchen, where a revolver had been concealed, secured it, lay down beside a carriage in which a seven-months-old baby was playing, and sent a bullet into his head.

He is survived by his wife. Colonel M. H. Sandwich and Mrs. Lee, of Thomaston, are brother and sister.

DUAL PERSONALITY BLAMED BY WAITE

For His Murderous Work. Dentist Says "Little Bad Man Did It All"—Waite More Incoherent.

New York, March 28.—Statements indicating that he believed he was possessed of a dual personality, the wicked one of which impelled him to murder John E. Peck, of Grand Rapids, his wealthy father-in-law, and Mrs. Peck, were made by Dr. Arthur Warren Waite to District Attorney Edward Swann and a detective tonight. Waite, still in bed at Bellevue hospital, where he is under arrest charged with the murder of Peck, when asked by Mr. Swann if he wished to make any statement, passed one hand over his eyes and answered vaguely:

"Oh! It is all over. This little bad man whom I haven't been able to get rid of until now—he did it all. Clara (Mrs. Waite) knows how I have tried to get rid of him. I don't know who he was—he told me he came from Egypt."

Roy A. Schindler, a detective who visited Waite before Mr. Swann arrived, declared the young dentist told him about the dual personality, asserting that he sometimes was so obsessed by the "bad man" that he would run around in the park to throw off the inclination to do evil.

According to Schindler Waite told him he administered live bacilli of various diseases to Mrs. Peck, but they did not act as quickly as he expected. He said also, the detective averred, that he fed germs to Peck, but when the results appeared to be "unsatisfactory" he gave arsenic to his father-in-law. Both Peck and Mrs. Peck died at Waite's apartments here. Mrs. Peck on January 30 and her husband on March 12. Autopsies on the body of Peck disclosed quantities of arsenic. Mrs. Peck's body was cremated.

Waite More Incoherent.

Three assistant district attorneys, as well as an attorney engaged today for Waite, were in the room when Waite made the statement about the dual personality. Mr. Swann said that Waite, who appeared to have recovered almost completely from the effects of the drugs he took Friday, seemed to be more incoherent and irrational tonight. He appeared at first not to recognize his visitors and when he spoke seemed to be addressing no one in particular.

Mr. Swann said he was not satisfied with Waite's statements. He said he did not regard them as constituting a complete confession, and indicated that he believed Waite and his counsel were paving the way to introduce an insanity defense.

Additional evidence regarding Waite's alleged activities with germs was obtained today by the district attorney's office. Mr. Swann said he had found that Waite, through intermediaries who sometimes represented themselves as reputable physicians, obtained from the Rockefeller foundation for medical research, Bellevue hospital and Willard Park hospital for infectious diseases, as well as the Cornell Medical school live bacilli of typhoid pneumonia, diphtheria and influenza. He also obtained germs from drug manufacturers in Detroit, the district attorney said, by using letter heads of physicians.

Waite's Check for $9,300.

Another development announced at the district attorney's office was that Waite, on Monday, March 20, before he was arrested, drew a check for $9,300 which he had on deposit in a local bank. This check is in the possession of Mr. Swann and a subpoena has been issued for the person to whom the money was turned over, but whose identity has not been disclosed.

Mrs. Margaret Weaver Horton, who shared a "studio" with Waite at a hotel, was questioned at the district attorney's office, the greater part of the day, and her own bank account and that of her husband, Harry Mack Horton, were examined. Horton said that about $8,000 which was deposited to his account during the year, was obtained through the sale of wireless ap-

ECONOMY

Buy-right Hints for the Housewife

Economy's Best Definition

Webster, in defining economy, expresses the term best in these words: "Avoidance of waste, and the application of money to the best advantage." Some one has said "that half of Europe could live on what we waste." An avoidance of waste lessens buying, and this must of truth be the real basis of economy. If this feature is conserved, domestic economics become a real factor in our welfare, and this rule combined with the "application of money to the best advantage" must result in a saving. The best lessons of this rule of advantageous application of money are taught daily in the advertising pages of The Constitution. The lowest prices are quoted on the articles of consumption, wear or service you buy the oftenest; the personal needs that must be repeatedly bought, and that score daily against the "allowance."

Adopting this advertising as your guide is the best means of applying your money to the best advantage.

NOTE—The CONSTITUTION guarantees a marked saving on every purchase made in Atlanta in stores that advertise their lowest prices in these pages.

LITTLE BUNCH OF WEEDS AND QUART OF WHISKY

That Was Original Base of Wine of Cardui, According to Witness.

Chicago, March 28.—John A. and Z. C. Patten, Jr., failed today to have stricken from the record in the $300,000 libel suit against the American Medical association, the deposition of Mrs. Mary E. McElree, in which she stated that the original preparation on which "Wine of Cardui" was based was "just a little bunch of weeds and a quart of whisky."

A deposition of John A. Patten, in which he admitted that "Wine of Cardui" contained twenty per cent of alcohol, was read. He admitted that as manager of the Chattanooga Medicine company he knew the contents of "Wine of Cardui," knew what was stated on the labels and "in a general way" knew the contents of the company literature.

In the deposition Mr. Patten stated that a pamphlet printed by his company, entitled "Home Treatment for Women," was composed by E. A. Wheatley, advertising counsel for the company, who was neither a physician nor surgeon.

He admitted that "Wine of Cardui" contained no juice of grapes and explained, according to the deposition, that he interpreted the word "wine" to mean an extract. The American Medical association's journal charged that the name "wine" was misleading because the medicine contained no juice of grapes. Mr. Patten said neither he nor his brother ever had a medical education.

The deposition of Grace Gilbert, head of the woman's department of the Chattanooga Medicine company, which was read in court, disclosed that she had never studied medicine.

The deposition said her duties were to direct correspondence to those seeking medical advice, and in it she declared that she got her information from "The Home Treatment Book," compiled by Mr. Wheatley, the advertising counsel.

Miss Gilbert explained that the company had eighteen form letters which were used in answering correspondence of women inquirers.

"How do you know which form to use?" she was asked.

"I use my own judgment," was the reply read from the deposition.

The expert testimony stage of the suit was reached this afternoon.

Each side will be allowed twenty experts. The first was Dr. Ralph W. Webster, a chemist. He testified in effect that Wine of Cardui, manufactured and sold by the Pattens, contains no curative solids of medicinal value. It contains about 20 per cent alcohol, he said, and asserted that the solids would dissolve as readily in water as in alcohol.

The physical effect, he said, of drinking wine of Cardui and a proportionate amount of alcohol diluted in water is the same.

GIRL PREFERRED FIRE TO BEING WHITE SLAVE

Bessie Reimers Failed to Cremate Self, But Two Other Persons Perished.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 28.—Bessie Reimers, 19, a waitress, was arrested here today on a charge of manslaughter and arson following a fire in the Foster apartments in which two persons were burned to death and eighteen were injured. According to the police, the girl confessed that she started the fire in an effort to commit suicide rather than become a white slave.

George Hanson, a waiter, and George Bauman also were arrested on suspicion and were held pending further investigation.

In a signed statement, according to the police, the Reimers girl said she was driven to desperation by Hanson and his associates who wished her to enter an immoral life. As a result of a police raid on the apartment house last week she was innocently involved and lost her job as waitress, she said, and sought death as a means of ending her troubles.

The girl said that on Monday morning she set fire to her bed, but was rescued by firemen. This morning she turned on two gas jets without lighting them, bound her ankles and gagged herself so she could not make an outcry and waited death.

A small lighted stove lighted the escaping gas and started the fire, she said. She was badly burned about the shoulders when rescued by firemen.

Mrs. Ethel Seaman and an unidentified man were burned to death in the fire. Most of the injured were hurt in jumping from upper windows of the building.

GREAT BLIZZARD RAGES IN THE BRITISH ISLES

London, March 28.—One of the worst blizzards experienced in the British Isles in a quarter of a century raged last night and today in the midlands and north of England and in Wales. There were heavy falls of snow and many villages were cut off from the outside world. Railway traffic was greatly delayed, and on some lines was suspended entirely. No casualties have been reported.

Seaboard Train Derailed.

Raleigh, N. C., March 28.—Seaboard Air Line passenger train, No. 9, the Florida Limited, southbound, was derailed at Lemon Springs, N. C., early today. Edgar Barbee, of Raleigh, the engineer, was slightly injured, but was able to continue his run after the engine had been placed back on the track. None of the passengers was injured.

Carranza Is Pressed By the United States For Use of Railways

Mexican Lines Are Vitally Necessary to Supply the American Troops Who Are Chasing Villa.

CARRANZA WOULD FIX LIMITS OF EXPEDITION

"First Chief" Seems Not to Want the Americans to Get Too Far Into Mexico—Villa Is Miles Ahead of His Pursuers.

FIRST DEATH REPORTED IN THE U. S. EXPEDITION

Columbus, N. M., March 28.—A railroad accident south of Casas Grandes caused the first death in the American punitive expedition according to official dispatches received tonight. A message from General Pershing's headquarters said that George A. Hudnell, a negro soldier in troop B, Tenth cavalry, had been killed in a wreck, but gave no details. The trooper was given a military burial March 24, at Los Horas ranch, according to the wireless message.

Washington, March 28.—Diplomatic and domestic aspects of the Mexican problem overshadowed its military side here tonight, official reports from General Funston disclosing no change in the situation on the border. Congress rushed through an emergency appropriation of $8,611,502 to pay for the pursuit of the bandits and the state department prepared to press General Carranza for permission to use Mexican railways to solve the troop supply problem.

Fears expressed in press reports from the border that failure to obtain use of the railroads might seriously hamper the pursuit of Villa were not reflected at either the state or war departments.

Alleged Hold-Up of Supplies.

Senator Gallinger, republican leader in the senate, presented to Secretary Baker a telegram from Senator Fall at El Paso dealing with the railway and border questions. It declared shipments of gasoline intended for the American forces in Mexico were being held up by Carranza officials.

"The department's dispatches of last night and today, while meager and dealing with technical matters, indicate continued and growing good will toward our expedition in Mexico." Secretary Baker said later in a statement. "Its object appears to be thoroughly understood by the people of Mexico. We have no dispatches indicating any cause for apprehension."

The communication to General Carranza will be made through Special Representative Rodgers at Queretaro, to whom instructions went forward tonight. State department officials said that it seemed necessary to impress upon the de facto government the need for special consideration of the request to use the lines south from the border without awaiting the perfecting of the protocol under negotiation. While there was no question but that the expedition after Villa would press on, it was stated, and that a sufficient amount of supplies could be furnished to the troops by motor truck trains, general use of the lines would greatly simplify matters.

Dispatches Cause Surprise.

News dispatches tonight indicating that the American troops already were using the railroad lines in some sections were read with surprise, at the war department, officials declaring there had been no official advices to that effect. It was thought that if the American commanders had used the lines on their own initiative it probably was done in co-operation with the local Carranza authorities.

There are indications that the check in the protocol negotiations resulting from General Carranza's counter proposals may extend that discussion a week or more.

General Carranza's suggestions as to the details of the protocol apparently are causing serious study at the state department. While officials are reticent, it is understood the most important suggestion deals with territory to be embraced within the scope of the agreement. It is thought possible General Carranza desires to set narrower limits than had been agreed upon in the original draft. Some officials think the first chief might be unwilling to have it disclosed just how far the American forces have penetrated or may penetrate into his country to carry out their mission.

Carranza's Proposals.

It was indicated that General Carranza's proposals showed no desire to exclude the expedition from use of the Mexican railways. On the contrary the protocol would establish a definite agreement for just that purpose. As this may take some time to reach its final form Washington officials determined to press for the much more limited permission asked for by General Funston. The latter would apply only to specific roads and towns while the general agreement of the protocol would cover all rail and other transportation lines within the territory embraced in the understanding.

Secretary Baker was emphatic today in saying no objection to the use of motor truck trains to supply the troops had been raised by Mexican officials. With the $8,000,000 emergency appropriation available, the department will be able to carry out its plan for establishing a complete independent supply system for the troops at the

IN SUCCESSIVE WAVES GERMAN FORCES CHARGED

But Every Time They Were Beaten by French Fire. Berlin Claims Russians Are Losing Heavily in Futile Attacks Against Germans.

London, March 28.—Another determined attempt by the Germans to break through the French lines northwest of Verdun has resulted in failure and with heavy losses to the Germans.

After days of intense artillery preparation for another effort to lessen the six miles intervening between them and the Paris-Verdun railway and the nine miles still between them and Verdun, the Germans launched a great infantry attack on the Haucourt-Bethincourt sector. In successive waves the Germans were thrown into the fray, but all of their attempts were put down by the curtain of fire of the French guns and fire of the French infantry.

There is still an intermittent bombardment going on northeast of Verdun, and in the Woevre region the French have been shelling German positions. In the Argonne they are giving the German lines no rest, while in the Vosges the artillery action has been marked on both sides.

BRITISH HOLD THEIR GAINS.

On the British front, in the St. Eloi sector, the Germans opened a heavy artillery fire on the British forces holding the ground gained by them Monday. The British artillery replied effectively and, according to the British official statement, these positions are still in the hands of the British.

In the Postavy region of the Russian front Berlin reports that the onslaughts of the Russians against the German lines have been withstood and that the attacking forces have suffered heavy casualties. A semi-official dispatch from Berlin says the Russians have attacked in their new offensive with sixty divisions over a front of 120 kilometers and that their losses have been not less than 80,000 men.

Heavy Italian bombardments of Austrian positions on the Doberdo heights and along the Isonzo continue.

A German air squadron has dropped bombs on the harbor works at Saloniki and the entente allied encampment north of Saloniki.

A German torpedo boat destroyer was rammed and sunk by the British light cruiser Cleopatra in the recent engagement off the German coast. There were no German survivors.

ARTILLERY ACTIVE ON BRITISH FRONT.

London, March 28.—The British official statement issued tonight on the campaign in France and Belgium reads:

"In spite of a very heavy hostile artillery fire last night and at intervals today, our infantry successfully held the ground gained by them yesterday at St. Eloi. Our artillery fire was very effective in replying to that of the enemy.

"The total prisoners taken up to now amount to five officers and 195 men of other ranks.

"There was hostile artillery and trench mortar activity against our positions between Loos and Hulluch and in front of Aix Noulette today. We retaliated by shelling the enemy's positions."

FRENCH REPULSE GERMAN ATTACKS.

Paris, March 28.—A bombardment of great violence against the French positions from Avocourt to Bethincourt, west of the Meuse, was followed this afternoon by a German attack which was launched against the Haucourt-Malancourt front in successive waves. It was repulsed with heavy losses, according to the official statement issued by the French war office tonight.

The text follows:

"In the Argonne our artillery continued active against the enemy organizations north of Houyette, in the sector of La Fontaine aux Charmes and Haute Chevauchee, as well as in eastern Argonne.

"Our fire directed on an enemy battery in the Montfaucon wood caused a violent explosion.

"West of the Meuse the bombardment was resumed with violence in the course of the day against our positions extending from Avocourt to Bethincourt. About 3 o'clock the Germans launched a powerful attack against our Haucourt-Malancourt front. The successive waves of the assault were all repulsed with heavy losses by our curtain of fire and the fire of the infantry.

"Our second lines east of the Meuse have been bombarded.

"In the Woevre our artillery concentrated its fire on visible points of the enemy front.

"In the Vosges the artillery action was quite spirited in the region of Strossweier, Mulbach and Hartmanns-Weilerkopf."

The Belgian official communication says there is nothing particular to report.

RUSSIANS GAIN ON ALL FRONTS.

Petrograd, March 28.—(Via London, March 29.)—The Russian war office communication issued today says:

"In the Riga section there has been artillery and rifle firing. Our artillery has done effective work on enemy trenches and batteries west of Olai and before the Ikskull bridgehead.

"On the Jacobstadt sector after a

INQUIRY TO GERMANY IN REGARD TO ATTACK ON STEAMSHIP SUSSEX

United States Wants to Know Whether Any of the Kaiser's U-Boats Torpedoed the Channel Liner or the Horse Ship Englishman.

EVIDENCE INDICATES SHIPS WERE TORPEDOED WITHOUT ANY WARNING

If German Submarine Attacked Either Ship, Resultant Situation Will Be Serious—If Wilson Decides to Break Relations With Germany He Will Go Before Congress and Give Reasons.

Washington, March 28.—Secretary Lansing, with the approval of President Wilson has instructed Ambassador Gerard to inquire of Germany whether any of its submarines torpedoed the British channel steamer Sussex, upon which twenty-five American citizens were traveling, or the British horseship Englishman, which went down with a loss of one American life.

The United States has no conclusive proof that a submarine attacked either ship, but all evidence at hand indicates that both were torpedoed without warning. Upon the response of the Berlin foreign office to Mr. Gerard's might be construed as a demand or a the American government.

At this time, it is made clear, no action has been taken which in any sense might be constructed as a demand or a protest.

All Reports Before Cabinet.

President Wilson laid all the state department's reports on the subject before his cabinet today. It was after the meeting that Secretary Lansing allowed it to become known that it had been determined to make an inquiry of the German government. Later it was learned that instructions already had been forwarded to Ambassador Gerard. They probably were in his possession this afternoon.

The general situation was still further complicated tonight with the receipt of a dispatch from Consul Frost at Queenstown announcing that the British steamer Manchester Engineer had been torpedoed without warning. Two negro American citizens aboard were rescued.

Further information which the consul said he was forwarding will be awaited before the department undertakes to consider this case.

If a German submarine attacked either the Sussex or the Englishman, it is admitted that the resultant situation will be most serious. An unofficial but authoritative statement has been made that Germany, if it was found that one of her submarines torpedoed the Sussex, immediately would offer reparation, punish the submarine commander and take steps to satisfy the United States that the act was a violation of the instructions. While official expression of opinion was withheld, it was intimated that should such a development occur the position of the United States would not be defined until it was known that the men responsible for violating the rights of humanity, the principles of international law, the solemn assurances given by Germany, actually had been punished.

If Germany Flatly Denies.

Until now the administration had not decided just what action will be taken if Germany flatly denies that any of its submarines was concerned in either

ALLIES ARE UNIT ON ALL QUESTIONS

Economic Unity as Well as Military Unity Decided Upon—War to Be Pressed Until Victory Is Won.

Paris, March 28.—The conference of the entente allies, which ended today, adopted the following resolutions just prior to adjournment:

"The representatives of the allied governments, in conference at Paris March 27 and 28, 1916, affirm the complete community of views and solidarity of the allies. They confirm all the measures taken to realize unity of action on unity of front.

"They understand by that, at the same time, unity of military action, assured by the entente concluded between the general staffs, unity of economic action, the organization of which the present conference has regulated, and unity of diplomatic action, which is guaranteed by their unshaken will to continue the struggle to victory for the common cause.

"The allied governments decided to put into practice in the economic domain their solidarity of views and interests. They charge the economic conference, which is to be held shortly at Paris, to propose for them appropriate measures for the realization of this solidarity.

"With a view to strengthen, co-ordinate and unify the diplomatic action to be exercised to prevent the revictualling of the enemy, the conference has decided to establish at Paris a permanent committee in which all the allies will be represented.

"The conference has decided: First, to continue the organization, already begun, at London, of an international cantral bureau of freights; second, to proceed in common, and with the briefest delay, to seek practical means to apportion equitable between the allied nations the charges for maritime transportation and check the rise in freight rates."

SUFFRAGE ON SHELF, AND ALSO PROHIBITION

House Judiciary Committee Votes to Postpone Consideration.

Washington, March 28.—Consideration of every proposed constitutional amendment introduced in the house this season, including those for woman suffrage and prohibition and 19 others of a minor character, was postponed indefinitely today by the judiciary committee. The vote was 10 to 9.

Suffrage leaders who vainly sought to have their proposal voted on separately declared tonight that they would continue their fight until the end of the session if necessary. They maintained that they controlled enough votes they will bring the issue to a vote again, when the committee meets Thursday.

Little hope for a favorable report from the present committee is entertained, however, by the members which favor woman suffrage. Chairman Webb tory if the other questions had not been included in the motion. If possible, is opposed to the amendment and today he recognized Representative Carlin, of Virginia, to make the postponement motion, while Representatives Nelson, of Wisconsin, and Moss, of West Virginia, clamored for the floor. Representatives Webb, of North Carolina; Whaley, of South Carolina, and Caraway, of Arkansas, voted against reporting the amendments. Representative Walker, of Georgia, was absent.

Prohibition leaders have made no announcement as to their future plans. None of them appeared at the committee room today and it is considered doubtfully their proposal will be resurrected for any other purpose than to in the committee today to insure vic- block a separate suffrage vote.

High-Powered Airships Offered to Government For Only One Dollar Each

New York, March 28.—The Aero Club of America announced today that, because of the law which prevents the United States government from accepting gifts, it had offered to sell to the government for one dollar each the two high-powered aeroplanes it recently proffered for use in Mexico. The offer to sell the machines at this price has been forwarded to Secretary of War Baker.

SEIZURE OF SECURITIES EXPLAINED BY BRITAIN

Washington, March 28.—Great Britain's reply to an inquiry by the United States regarding the removal of $12,000,000 in securities from Dutch steamers en route from Rotterdam to New York and touching at English ports, was transmitted to the state department today by Ambassador Page. In substance it said that such securities as were of German ownership and were being sent to America to establish a credit here, were held on the ground that they were as much contraband as would be a shipment of an equivalent amount of specie.

The British government explained, however, that careful examination had been made of the seized securities; that only such of them as were clearly of German ownership had been detained and that the remainder already had been forwarded to the consignees in this country.

case, even though the circumstantial evidence received clearly indicates the contrary. Such a state of affairs, officials say, will be met when it arises.

If future developments should cause the president to determine that the breaking off of diplomatic relations with Germany is necessary, he would go before congress, announce his decision and explain the acts leading up to it. While the president has full authority to break off relations, he realizes that such an act inevitably would lead to war, and, therefore, would feel himself obligated to fully inform congress, the war making body of the government, before taking such a step.

Among high officials of the administration there appears to be a difference of opinion regarding the course the United States should pursue, should Germany deny responsibility for the attack and the American government find convincing evidence that they were the work of German submarines. Some officials believe that in such circumstances the accumulation of offenses against the United States would justify the severance of diplomatic relations. Others do not feel that such action would be justified.

Colonel House Sees President.

Colonel E. M. House, the president's closest adviser, arrived in Washington late today and immediately went to the white house, where he conferred with the president, Counsellor Polk, of the state department, and other officials. Colonel House is thoroughly familiar with the views of the German government, having conferred at length with the imperial chancellor, Von Bethmann-Hollweg, during his recent visit to Berlin. He is giving the president first hand information which will assist the United States in gaining an understanding of the attitude of Berlin officials. Colonel House will remain in Washington until Thursday.

SAVANNAH MAN ON TORPEDOED SHIP.

London, March 28.—Two American citizens, Arthur MacKenzie, of Savannah, and Tom Fifer, of Delaware, who were on board the British steamer Manchester Engineer, have made affidavits before the American consul that the steamer was torpedoed without notice, according to a Central News dispatch from Queenstown today.

Washington, March 28.—American Consul Frost at Queenstown reported today that the Manchester Engineer was torpedoed without warning yesterday off Waterport, with two American citizens, negroes, aboard. The dispatch said no lives were lost.

"In the region northwest of Postavy the enemy is offering desperate resistance, making furious counter attacks at some points.

"In the region west of Lake Narocz the enemy occupied a wood south of the village of Mokrzyce, but by counter attacks we dislodged him from the northern part of the wood capturing two machine guns and a number of prisoners belonging to four different regiments.

"In the region of Rakitno marsh and the sectors of this front north and south the engagements continue.

"In Galicia in the region north of Bojana we exploded simultaneously 13 mines and our infantry immediately afterwards rushed across two lines of enemy trenches, killing the surviving defenders of the works with hand grenades and in hand-to-hand fighting. We took 125 prisoners, two machine guns, a trench mortar, a mine thrower, a searchlight and a quantity of small arms.

"Five enemy guns which were taken during the action were made completely useless, as we were unable to remove them.

"Despite the bad weather conditions which are continually growing worse along the whole front, as well as the very difficult topographical condition, our troops, imbued with the spirit of sacrifice, continue courageously to execute the tasks entrusted to them.

"In the Black sea our torpedo boats have destroyed on the Anatolian coast ten sailing ships, demolished two bridges and set fire to a munitions depot.

"Caucasus front: On the coastal front our troops, overcoming the desperate resistance of the enemy, after artillery preparations by warships, dislodged the Turks from their positions in the region of the river Baltatchi-Darassi and, after an engagement, occupied the town on the Black sea coast. At dusk the same day the Turks opened counter attacks on the whole of this sector, which were all successfully repulsed.

"Southeast of Bitlis (Lake Van region) Friday night, after a fight, we captured the village of Hizan. The Turks defending the village fled southward."

The Baltatchi river is about thirty miles east of Trebizond.

LIVELY FIGHTING NEAR ST. ELOI.

Berlin, March 28.—(Via London.)—The development of lively fighting on the Franco-Belgian front south of St. Eloi and also along adjacent lines is reported by German army headquarters in today's official statement.

According to the announcement a German flying squadron made a raid on Saloniki yesterday, dropping many bombs on the new harbor and petroleum depot and on the camp of the allies north of the town.

The report dealing with the operations on the western front says:

"South of St. Eloi there were lively actions at close range around the craters sprung by the British and in the vicinity of the connecting lines.

"On both sides of the River Meuse there was nothing new to report."

Regarding the fighting in Russia the official statement says:

"Eastern front: The Russians drove fresh masses of troops against our lines near Postavy. The heroic resistance of the troops of the Saarbrueck corps enabled us to withstand all the enemy attacks in this neighborhood. These troops, supported on their flanks by Brandenburg, Hanoverian and Halle corps, checked the repeated onslaughts made by two Russian divisions. The most severe losses were inflicted upon the enemy.

"Repeated enemy attack under cover of darkness near Mokrzyce met a similar fate. These attacks were made in an attempt to recover lost ground."

"Balkan theater: In response to the enemy's aerial attack upon our position near Doiran lake we conducted yesterday a similar raid upon Saloniki. Our flying squadron dropped numerous bombs upon the new harbor and petroleum depot and on the entente encampment north of the town."

GAIN CLAIMED BY ITALIANS.

Rome, March 28.—(Via London.)—The following official communication was issued:

"The artillery duel was renewed Sunday in the zone of Roverto and the Upper Astico. Enemy troop movements in the Astico valley and trains arriving at the Caldonazzo station were shelled repeatedly by our artillery.

"After intense artillery preparation the enemy attacked in force our positions on Valpiccolo and succeeded in occupying along the whole front from Monte Croce to Val Grande brought into our possession enemy entrenchments at Selleta Freikofel and the Cavallo pass, where we took sixty-three prisoners, including three officers. At Valpiccolo the combat was a bitter one, lasting thirty hours. After six furious attacks our infantry charged with the bayonet on the position previously lost and won back all of it. Hundreds of the bodies of the enemy remain on the ground.

"Along the remainder of the front there has been an artillery duel, which was particularly violent on the heights northwest of Gorizia. This morning groups of enemy airmen flew over the plain between the Isonzo and Piave in an attempt to hinder our communications and damage bridges. The attempt failed completely. Forced to remain at a great height by our artillery fire, the airmen threw some dozen of bombs without killing any one or damaging anything. Our artillery brought down one machine near Ajello and a seaplane in the Grado lagoon, while a third machine was felled by rifle fire near the Priula bridge. One of the enemy aviators, a major commanding the squadron, was killed. Five others were made prisoner."

AUSTRIAN REPORT ON OPERATIONS.

Berlin, March 28.—(By Wireless.—The official communication issued by the Austro-Hungarian war office today is as follows:

"On the Italian front violent engagements took place yesterday at several points. The Austro-Hungarian forces near the Gorizia bridgehead, conquered an entire enemy position before the north section of Podgora Heights. Five hundred and twenty-five Italians were taken prisoner, among whom were 13 officers.

"In the Ploecken section the enemy, although he brought up reinforcements, failed to take back the trenches which he had lost. The engagements spread and continued all night.

"On the Tyrolean front only moderate artillery engagements occurred. The enemy's artillery shelled Caldonazzo in the Sugana valley.

"At Balan, east of Durazzo, in Albania, two Italian field guns with ammunition have been found. Elsewhere the situation is unchanged."

DUPLICITY CHARGED TO LOUIS BRANDEIS

Attorneys Sign Brief Protesting Against Confirmation of Wilson's Nominee.

Washington, March 28.—Counsel for the opposition to confirmation of Louis D. Brandeis as an associate justice of the supreme court today filed a brief with the senate judiciary sub-committee asserting they had proved that Mr. Brandeis had violated the canons of professional ethics of the American Bar association, had made false and misleading statements, had been guilty of duplicity in the performance of his professional duties, had represented interests opposed to the public welfare and had been guilty of sharp practices. The sub-committee probably will vote Saturday on its report.

The attorneys who signed the brief, which purports to summarize the 1,300 pages of testimony heard by the committee, were Austen G. Fox and Kenneth M. Spence, of New York. The standard of professional ethics which they charge Mr. Brandeis with having violated is one which forbids a lawyer in whom confidence has been reposed by a client, thereafter accepting employment from others in matters adversely affecting any interest of the client with respect to which the confidence had been reposed. The attorneys say they proved Mr. Brandeis violated this canon by his conduct in connection with the bankruptcy affairs of James T. Lennon, the Warren will case, the United Shoe Machinery company, Equitable Life Assurance society and the Gillette Safety Razor company.

False and misleading statements or acts of duplicity are asserted to have been proven in the Ballinger-Pinchot hearing, the Boston and Maine merger fight and the New York and New England litigation.

Under the heading of proof as to representing interests opposed to the public welfare and acts of sharp practices, the attorneys refer to Mr. Brandeis' conduct in the five per cent advance rate case of 1913 before the interstate commerce commission and to his appearing "as registered lobbyist before the Massachusetts legislature for the liquor interests."

His conduct in the Old Dominion copper case is criticised by the attorneys and as "other instances of Mr. Brandeis' sudden and unexpected change of position," they refer to the Consolidated Gas incident and the price maintenance incident.

Even if there be doubt as to the standard of professional conduct of Mr. Brandeis, the attorneys claim that his nomination should not be confirmed. They point out that eight former presidents of the American Bar association have protested against confirmation and that the only former president who appeared in support of confirmation had known Mr. Brandeis only slightly.

Alleged Bribe for Undertaker.

Representatives of the district attorney's office are searching tonight for the undertaker who embalmed the body of Peck. Mr. Swann declared Waite had told him that he had made an agreement with the undertaker that for a consideration of $9,000 the latter would testify that he had used arsenic in the fluid with which he embalmed Peck's body. Waite asserted, Mr. Swann said, that he actually paid over this amount to the undertaker in the telephone booth of a cigar store on March 20.

Waite said, according to Mr. Swann, that he made the proposition to the undertaker when the latter called at his apartment on March 19 to collect his bill for conducting the funeral of Mr. Peck. Waite is said to have admitted that on March 20 he drew a check for $9,300, which he induced the proprietor of a garage at which he kept his car, to have cashed for him, and that he turned over all but three hundred dollars of this amount to the undertaker.

The use of arsenic in embalming fluid is prohibited by law in this state. In a statement credited to him several days ago, the undertaker was quoted as saying none was used in the embalming of Mr. Peck's body.

Waite's "Other Fellow."

Mr. Swann amplified tonight what he said Waite had told him in regard to his "alter ego," which he called "the other fellow."

"I never have seen him," Waite is said to have declared, "but I have heard of him. He was born in Egypt in the present life, but lived in other ages. All my evil inclinations came from him. Because of him, I often told Clara I wanted to be alone. Until now, I have always felt the influence of my alter ego, but now I feel free. I feel for the first time that I have cast him off, and my mind is at rest."

FROM BATTLE'S DIN, RICE SEEKS REST IN POLICE STATION

A man giving his name as D. F. Rice, and his age as 32 years, appeared at police headquarters last night asking to be allowed to sleep there. According to the story told he has had a varied career during the past year.

Rice says that he was formerly on H. M. S. Dublin, as an able seaman, until the boat was sunk in the Dardanelles. Effecting his escape, he made his way to France, where he fought in the trenches under the flags of the allies. Being wounded in the foot during an engagement, he claims to have made his way on a trawler to England.

Shipping on a tramp steamer bound for American ports, he succeeded in reaching Mobile. There the captain of the vessel gave him funds sufficient to reach Montgomery. He claims to be working his way to Richmond, Va., where he has relatives.

5,500 CORPORATIONS BARRED BY CALIFORNIA

Sacramento, Ca., March 28.—Governor Hiram W. Johnson issued a proclamation today excluding from intrastate business in California about 5,500 corporations, including the Ford Automobile company, for failure to pay the state franchise tax of last year.

W. F. Williamson, counsel for the Ford company, said tonight the courts would probably be asked to enjoin the enforcement of the governor's proclamation. The company refused to pay the tax on the ground that it was excessive.

GERMAN DESTROYER SENT TO THE BOTTOM

Warship Was Rammed by a British Vessel—All on Board Lost.

London, March 28.—Official announcement was made today that in the recent engagement off the German coast a British light cruiser rammed and sank a German destroyer.

The announcement follows:

"All the ships employed in the operations off the German coast have now returned to their ports except the Medusa, which ship, as was feared, was sunk after all her crew had been taken off in very bad weather by the destroyer Lasso without any casualty, a fine piece of seamanship.

"Our destroyers, while dealing with enemy patrol vessels, were themselves attacked by enemy aircraft. They received no damage of any kind.

"The following prisoners were rescued from the enemy patrol trawlers, which were previously reported sunk by our ships, Vizko, four from the trawler Otto Rudolf, 16 from the trawler Braunschweig.

"On Saturday night a division of German destroyers was encountered by our light cruisers. One of these destroyers was rammed and sunk by H. M. S. Cleopatra. None of her crew was saved."

DEWITT BACON DIES IN ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.

Albany, Ga., March 28.—(Special.)—A telegram today from Albuquerque, New Mexico, brought news of the death there of Dewitt Bacon, formerly of Albany, but more recently of Savannah and Guyton. He was the only surviving son of the late D. C. Bacon, and has prominent connections throughout the state. He went to New Mexico about six weeks ago on account of illness, but his death was wholly unexpected. The body will be brought to Georgia, and probably buried at Savannah.

ALL THE NEIGHBORS ADVISED ME TO GET TANLAC FOR MOTHER

Mother of Ten Children Is Restored to Health--Grateful Son Tells How Tanlac Helped Her--Gains Fifteen Pounds.

"Everybody in our neighborhood advised me to get Tanlac for mother, and now you just ought to hear her sing its praises," said H. B. Smith, of Smyrna, Ga., in a remarkable statement to Dr. E. B. Elder at Jacobs' Pharmacy in Atlanta.

Mrs. N. E. Smith, the lady referred to, is the widowed mother of ten living children and her physical condition has been a source of anxiety to her family and a great many friends for some time past.

"Yes," continued the son, "Mother had been in bad shape for at least two years, but Tanlac has simply set her free. She has actually gained fifteen pounds since taking it, and I never saw anybody improve like she has.

"She had suffered from nervousness and bad stomach trouble all this time and had gotten so she couldn't touch meat or vegetables of any kind. She would have spells of smothering and sometimes would have to fairly gasp for breath.

"Her circulation was poor and she was very bilious, and bad headaches were with her just all the time. All this seemed to pull her down and make her so weak and helpless she could hardly dress herself, and she wasn't able to do anything about the house at all.

"The doctors did not seem to benefit her any, and some said they could not do her any good. She was mightily out of heart about her condition and we were all uneasy, for we didn't know what to do for her until she decided to try this new medicine.

"She has taken three bottles of it, and the way she gained in weight and strength is something wonderful! We now understand why all the neighbors seemed so anxious for her to take it. She has picked up just like everything and can even eat pork and any kind of vegetables she wants. She eats heartily and sleeps fine, and she is perfectly delighted with it.

"There is no doubt about it, mother is feeling fine and when she sings Tanlac's praises her children all join in the chorus. You can't blame us for recommending it, for we are all so glad it has helped her so much. If you will just go to see mother, she will give you the best endorsement you ever published."

When this case was brought to his attention, Mr. G. F. Willis, southern distributor of Tanlac, said:

"Statements like this, made and published right in the community and state where the fact can and should be investigated and verified, leave nothing else to be desired in establishing the merits of this great medicine.

"Tanlac stands on what it HAS DONE and on what it is doing every day. Local testimonials from reliable people from all walks of life are published by us for the very purpose of making investigations easy and practicable for all who are suffering from the troubles that Tanlac so easily, so effectively, and so invariably reaches."

STRICT HONESTY URGED FOR REAL ESTATE MEN

President Piper Says Honesty Must Be Made More Than a Policy.

New Orleans, March 28.—The ninth annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate exchanges was formally opened here today with Walter C. Piper, president, of Detroit, presiding, and about 700 delegates in attendance. The visitors were welcomed by Governor Hall, Mayor Martin Behrman and representatives of local commercial organizations.

President Piper delivered his annual address and submitted his report on what had been accomplished by the association during the last year.

Announcement was made that the board of managers and executive committee had voted in favor of the association affiliating with the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and also favored adoption of a copyrighted word, "Realtor," to be applied exclusively to members of the organization.

In his address President Piper said: "We should redouble our efforts to retain the confidence of the public, cleanse the profession of every phase of crooked and questionable practice, and live up to a higher professional standard than ever before."

Mr. Piper said the real estate men should retain the confidence of the people by making honesty more than a policy. He declared the rule expelling every member convicted of illegal practice should be rigidly enforced.

Building Laws Scored.

A protest against alleged "unjust, unnecessary and impractical demands" which it was declared are made on realty owners in many parts of the country as a result of building regulations, inspections and administration methods, was contained in the annual report of the committee on state legislation. The report was prepared by L. D. Woodworth, chairman, of New York, and cited instances of alleged injustice in building laws and inspection systems in which orders of various departments conflicted with each other and at times necessitated expensive alterations to comparatively new structures.

The committee recommended legislation to correct these matters complained of; urged legislation to remove the defense of usury, in case where a bonus is paid lenders for liberal mortgage loans on real estate security, and suggested state regulation of real estate brokerage, through authorized omissions, to prevent imposition by fakirs.

Address By Anna Held.

Mme. Held told of scenes of suffering and heroism she had witnessed in hospitals containing wounded soldiers of the various nations engaged in the European war. In closing she made a plea for peace, and urged a popular uprising against kings and emperors and other monarchs who, she declared, were responsible for the war.

Dr. Saunders declared the rural credit bank should have a co-operative liability and should have forty per cent in cash and the remainder in short time paper. The extreme limit of loans, he said, should not be higher than forty per cent. He suggested provision should be made for appraisement of rural property every six years.

E. H. Close, of Toledo, chairman of the publicity committee, in his report urged the necessity for inaugurating a campaign for greater publicity for the association in the various states and the raising of funds for that purpose.

The addition since the last convention of 24 local boards as members of the national organization was reported by Charles F. Laughlin, of Cleveland, chairman of the committee on new exchanges.

Atlantans in Attendance.

A sharp contest is on between Detroit and Milwaukee for the next meeting. The real estate convention is considered a great prize and much wire pulling is going on to land the next session.

Charles P. Glover heads the Atlanta delegation. He is a member of the nominating committee, which will select new officers, and is personally very popular among the delegates. He is accompanied by Mrs. Glover.

One of the most enthusiastic attendants at the convention is Hunter C. Perry, of the Forrest and George Adair agency. He is making many friends at the convention and gathering valuable ideas for use in Atlanta.

Official reports from consuls in Mexico again today dwelt on the lack of popular excitement there over the entry of American troops.

AMERICANS USING PART OF RAILWAY.

San Antonio, Texas, March 28.—Information secured today by General Frederick Funston from an unofficial source of the injury of ten troopers of the Tenth cavalry in a railroad accident south of Casas Grandes is taken here as confirming reports that the United States' expeditionary force has been permitted to use a portion of the Northwestern railway in Mexico for the transportation of troops.

According to General Funston's informant two cars of soldiers were overturned while proceeding over a temporary track around Cumbre tunnel, one of the rails giving way and the cars rolling down an embankment. Three of the men were said to be seriously hurt. Several horses also were injured.

No official reports were received today from General Pershing, commander of the expedition, but his silence has caused no uneasiness at army headquarters, where the chief concern continued to be the problem of getting supplies into Mexico.

It was not believed at department headquarters that General Pershing's use of the railroad prior to the receipt of formal permission from the Carranza government would endanger negotiations now being conducted by the state department, as it was assumed that he had secured permission of those in charge of the operation of that section of the line.

Advices from Washington that the state department had prepared a memorandum urging General Carranza to decide the question of using the railroad without waiting for the ratification of the protocol, revived the hope that perhaps by Thursday the stores held at El Paso may be forwarded to some field depot more accessible to the troops now operating almost three hundred miles from the boundary line.

Eactly where Colonel Dodd's cavalry is now or into how many detachments it has been divided was unknown here today. The exact whereabouts of General Pershing also remained unreported, but this lack of information created no uneasiness, for General Pershing still has orders to work out his own problems. Full realization of the danger into which some of the advanced detachments must be moving was acknowledged. Villa's known ability as a director of ambuscades has aroused frank expressions among army officers that he may catch some of the American troops in a mountain trap.

More automobile trucks have been asked for by General Funston and when they are placed in service there will be more than 300 along the different lines of communication. This increased number of conveyances will not solve the problem of distributing supplies to the advanced troops, however, since a large part of the troops are operating far away from trails over which the cars can be run.

The shifting lines of the chase Villa is leading the pursuing Americans has made more apparent the desirability of getting permission to use the Juarez-Chihuahua line of the National as well as the Northwestern railway, but General Funston has refrained from making any representations on this subject, preferring not to interject a possible embarrassing feature in the negotiations already under way for the other line.

VILLA MILES AHEAD OF HIS PURSUERS.

El Paso, Texas, March 28.—Dispatches from the front interpreted in connection with news brought by Americans returning from different points in the interior of Chihuahua caused a belief here tonight that Francisco Villa was headed for San Andres, about 25 miles southwest of Chihuahua City, a favorite headquarters of the bandit. He is thought to be already not less than 50 miles ahead of his pursuers and possibly leading the chase at a much greater distance.

There are several Americans in El Paso who are not only thoroughly familiar with the country through which Villa is fleeing, but who were also well acquainted with the bandit chief in former days. They are agreed that Villa's objective is the district around Parral and south from there to Torreon, in which territory numerous Villa bands, under the leadership of Canuto Reyes, are operating with considerable success.

If Villa is able to effect a junction with Reyes the problem of his extermination will have become a serious one, as he then will be able to control several thousand soldiers, who, split into guerrilla bands, might be able to keep up a desultory mountain warfare for an unlimited period, they point out.

The one hope at present is that the American cavalrymen may be able to catch up with Villa before he gets much farther south. It is admitted here that the hope is a slender one and will be much more attenuated if the American troops are not given the use of the Mexican railroads for bringing up supplies. The supplies question overshadows everything else now. Army officers here say that upon its solution depends every chance of a successful termination to the pursuit of the bandit.

In the passes and dim trails of the great continental divide over which Villa is now fleeing motor transportation is practically impossible, according to men who know the country. Nothing but pack mules and horses can be used, and even these must be loaded lightly. The establishment of a great base of supplies and munitions at the nearest point to these tortuous mountain ranges is understood to be General Pershing's plan, but the maintenance of this base is considered an impossibility without railroad facilities on the backward trail to the United States border.

As far as the border is concerned conditions seem to have settled down to a condition of stagnation. Excitement was caused early today by a report that Mexicans had crossed the Rio Grande at a point 32 miles east of here and attempted a raid on the ranch of C. E. Kelley, former mayor of El Paso. Troops were rushed to the scene, but after many hours of fruitless search they returned with the report that they believed the whole story was due to the overwrought nerves of a woman.

UNDERTAKERS ASK FOR BODY OF VILLA.

Field Headquarters, American Expeditionary Force, Colonia Dublan, Mexico, March 28.—(By Aeroplane to Columbus, N. M.)—A letter requesting Villa's body has been received by Brigadier General J. J. Pershing from a Dyersburg, Tenn., firm. The letter reads:

"General Pershing:

"Dear Sir: Is it possible for us to get the body of Villa if he is killed? We want to hold it by embalming and keeping in our undertaking department. We will pay a good price for his body. Please let us hear from you in regard to the same."

RECORDER OF AMERICUS TENDERS RESIGNATION

Americus, Ga., March 28.—(Special.) The resignation of Thomas O. Marshal as city recorder was filed with city council at the regular meeting tonight. The small compensation, which is $25 a month, was given as reason. Marshal had been recorder since September, 1915, when an act of the legislature creating the position became effective. It is probable council will increase the salary, as the special act allows them to set the sum.

COLLEGE LAND FOR SITE OF THIRD DISTRICT FAIR

Americus, Ga., March 28.—(Special.) A committee of the stockholders of the Third District Agricultural fair, with power to act, decided tonight to utilize a portion of the college land as a site for the fair. The decision was reached after several plans and sites had been offered.

Iron Is Greatest of All Strength Builders, Says Doctor

A Secret of the Great Endurance and Power of Athletes

Ordinary Nuxated Iron Will Make Delicate, Nervous, Rundown People 200 Per Cent. Stronger in Two Weeks' Time in Many Cases.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Most people foolishly seem to think they are going to get renewed health and strength from some stimulating medicine, secret nostrum or narcotic drug, said Dr. Sauer, a specialist of this city, when, as a matter of fact, real and true strength can only come from the food you eat. But people often fail to get the strength out of their food because they haven't enough iron in their blood to enable it to change food into living matter. From their weakened, nervous condition they know something is wrong, but they can't tell what, so they generally commence doctoring for stomach, liver or kidney trouble or symptoms of some other ailment caused by the lack of iron in the blood. This thing may go on for years, while the patient suffers untold agony. If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while, double their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of all symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form. And this after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. But don't take the old forms of reduced iron, iron acetate or tincture of iron simply to save a few cents. You must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated like nuxated iron if you want it to do you any good, otherwise it may prove worse than useless. Many an athlete or prize fighter has won the day simply because he knew the secret of great strength and endurance and filled his blood with iron before he went into the affray, while many another has gone down to inglorious defeat simply for the lack of iron.

NOTE—Nuxated Iron recommended above by Dr. Sauer is not a patent medicine nor secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists and whose iron constituents is widely prescribed by eminent physicians everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach; on the contrary, it is a most potent remedy, in nearly all forms of indigestion, as well as for nervous, rundown conditions. The Manufacturers have such great confidence in Nuxated Iron that they offer to forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under 60 who lacks iron and increase their strength 200 per cent or over in four weeks' time provided they have no serious organic trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by Jacobs' Pharmacy and all other druggists.—(adv.)

Bishop McCoy Congratulates Atlanta on Support of Emory

Congratulating Atlanta upon her success in raising $500,000 for the building fund of Emory university, Bishop James H. McCoy, of Birmingham, Ala., has written a letter to The Constitution, in which he also expresses his great admiration for the Atlanta spirit and his faith in Atlanta's caring for the university.

His letter is a sincere compliment to the energy with which the campaign was conducted and the freedom with which the donations to the fund were made.

His letter is accompanied by a letter from Bishop Warren A. Candler, chancellor of Emory university.

Bishop Candler's letter follows:

Editor Constitution: In a letter just received from Bishop McCoy, of Birmingham, Ala., he encloses the article which I send herein and asks that I hand it to you for publication. This expression from the good bishop is very generous, and especially in view of the fact that his home is in Birmingham. He is a broad-minded man, however, and it in no wise surprises me. It is, in fact, his way.

While I am writing let me thank you for your editorial printed in this morning's paper, and for the warm support of the university campaign by The Constitution.

W. A. CANDLER.

March 28, 1916.

Here is Bishop McCoy's letter:

Editor Constitution: Permit me, as one of the bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, and as a member of the educational commission that is charged with the building of Emory university, to congratulate the people of Atlanta on the speedy and successful completion of the campaign for raising the city's pledge of $500,000 to the building fund.

I had the honor of being present and of speaking when this campaign was launched, and I have watched its progress with profound interest and with the utmost faith in its success. And now I rejoice with your people and crave the opportunity to express my admiration of their wonderful vision and co-operation whenever a community interest is involved.

Again the Atlanta Spirit wins, and both the great southern Methodist church and the great city of Atlanta are the beneficiaries.

The commission made no mistake in locating Emory university in Atlanta. While the university is going to mean much to Atlanta, the church rests in the faith that Atlanta is going to continue to appreciate and care for the university.

Hazel Dawn Wants To Go Barefooted And Wade in Brooks

Also She Would Meet Some Hall County "Moonshiners" Before She Dances Here at Next Saturday Night's Ball

By Britt Craig.

Hazel Dawn, the stage and movie star, who has as pretty a pair of blue eyes as ever twinkled and who won't venture into the wilds of Hall county without the protection of her mother, is eager to go bare-footed.

She is at this very moment journeying to "the valleys of Hall" to get that wish. Some time tomorrow morning or in the afternoon Hazel Dawn will have her first bare-foot days.

And for the first time in her brief but illustrious life she is going to play a tow-sack sort of role, that of the mountain heroine in the Famous Players' film, now being produced, "The Truth Country."

Off With Wardrobe.

She will play the entire picture in her bare feet. Hitherto she has delineated roles requiring sumptuous wardrobes and still more sumptuous settings. It was in musical comedy, where she starred in "The Pink Lady," and "Watch Your Step," the latter of which was the New York success that Atlanta has not seen.

She reached Atlanta late yesterday afternoon, and, after dinner at the Piedmont, in company with her mother, Irving Cummings, her leading man, and Bill Oldknow, the Atlanta film magnate, who has played host to more film stars than any other Atlantan, she left for Rome, from whence she will go to Hall county.

"It'll be great sport," she said at dinner, "going bare-footed and wading in the brooks."

Authentic Advice.

She was advised against calling them "brooks" in Hall county, otherwise the natives wouldn't exactly gather her.

"Call them creeks," she was counselled.

"I think this will be my greatest part," she prophesied. "I've always wanted to be a tomboy, but never had a chance. I'll find out if there's any tomboy in me. . . . I guess there is. Mother says there's all sorts of other meanness."

Above all she wants to meet a "moonshiner."

The Dawn company of players will be in the north Georgia mountains for three weeks or more. Most of their scenes will be taken in and around Gainesville, where the rugged scenery is ideal.

Miss Dawn, Frederick Thompson, her director, and Cummings will return to the city Saturday to appear at the grand ball of the Motion Picture Trades exposition that night at the Auditorium-Armory.

E. Y. Clarke, secretary of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, accompanied Hazel Dawn and her company of players last night to north Georgia, this company having been brought to work in Georgia through the influence of the chamber of commerce.

CUMMINGS PLAYS WITH MISS BUNTING AGAIN AFTER 9 YEARS

Irving Cummings, the moving-picture star, and hero of "The Diamond From the Sky," who was in the city yesterday en route to the north Georgia mountains on the Famous Players' picture being staged by the Hazel Dawn company in that territory, will return to the stage next season and play opposite Emma Bunting, who is now playing stock at the Lyric theater.

This was announced last night by E. A. Schiller, Miss Bunting's director. Mr. Schiller is planning a road tour with the Bunting company when next season opens in September.

Cummings played leads under Miss Bunting nine years ago in San Antonio. There was a pleasant reunion when they met on his present trip to Atlanta. This was the first time in eight years that they had seen each other. Cummings appeared before the audience at yesterday's matinee of the Bunting play, "Help Wanted," and delivered a tribute to his former leading woman.

MARGARET WILSON TO SING IN ATLANTA

Atlanta music lovers are promised a rare treat in May or June in the appearance of Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of President Wilson. Miss Wilson, who has achieved success as a lyric soprano, will sing in concert under the direction of the Ellen Wilson Memorial association.

Col. Edward M. Knox Dead.

New York, March 28.—Colonel Edward M. Knox, civil war veteran and retired head of the Knox Hat company, died here today. Colonel Knox served in the war under General Meagher and received a medal of honor from congress for gallantry at Gettysburg. He was born in New York in 1842. Colonel Knox's wife, Florence Rice, a noted contralto of the 70's who sang with Patti, died two years ago.

A Little Blossom To Delight the Home

When it is known that in the near future the home is to be blessed with a new arrival the first thought should be "Mother's Friend." This is an external remedy gently applied over the stomach muscles. It makes them firm and pliant, they expand naturally without undue strain. It removes from the nerves those influences which are responsible for much of the pain incident to the period of expectancy. It is for this reason that much of the distress such as morning sickness is avoided. All prospective fathers should see to it that the expectant mother is provided with a bottle of "Mother's Friend."

The directions are simple. Get it at any drug store. It is applied by the expectant mother herself, it penetrates deeply and affords quick and splendid relief in a most gratifying manner and reflects a physical betterment to the nervous disposition of the baby. Don't fail to get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" today and then write Bradfield Regulator Co., 418 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a pretty little book brimful of information for expectant mothers. It is a delight to read it.

Our Besetting Sin

Edmund Burke may have been right in his observation that "you cannot indict a nation," but we will all agree upon the proposition that the Americans are a nation of wasters.

Nature has been prodigal with us, and we have been prodigal with what she has given us. We have wasted our forests until the end of our timber supply is in sight. Half our coal energy goes up the chimney. Our water power turns few mill wheels, and the substance of our soil has been taken out in bumper crops until the abandoned farm calls a halt. Waste is on every hand, and in every community, and if you would see it, look around you.

What Is Thrift?

Before you can practice a virtue you must know what it is.

When we speak of thrifty people we are apt to picture them living on cheap food, in cheap quarters, wearing shabby clothes, having few or no pleasures, and saving every cent possible. But that is not thrift—far from it.

Thrift is a greater virtue than the mere saving of money. Don't forget that.

The prudent man looks ahead and gets ready. The frugal man lives carefully and saves persistently. The economical man spends judiciously, buys wisely and wastes nothing. The industrious man works hard and saves hard; the miser hoards, but the man of thrift earns largely, spends wisely, plans carefully, manages economically and saves consistently.

Thrift is all of prudence, economy, frugality and industry—and "then some." Thrift is that instinct of the dog that buries the bone he doesn't want for tomorrow's wants; the instinct of the squirrel that knows nutting is out of season in the winter.

Thrift will bring you success, save you from worry, make you a better husband, father and citizen, a better asset to the state, a benefactor to your country, and most of all, a profitable and indispensable employee to the business in which you are engaged and from which you make your living. Your job is to make a good living and make a good living long, and thrift will teach you how.

Are you practicing it?

During the month of February 521 patients were received at the Grady hospital, 266 were in the institution at the beginning of the month, 51 died and 440 were discharged, leaving in the hospital 296 on March 1, according to the report of Superintendent W. B. Summerall, filed with the board of trustees at its regular monthly meeting yesterday.

The ambulance during February made 533 trips for patients, and 2,644 were treated at "out-door" clinics.

Following the hospital board's meeting the board of trustees of the Nurses' Training school held a brief session, at which it was decided to hold the school's commencement exercises April 18, and hereafter annually on the third Tuesday of April. The place of holding the exercises this year will be Taft hall, if suitable arrangements can be made. If not the superintendent was authorized to find another auditorium.

BAINBRIDGE WANTS BRANCH OF U. S. COURT

Bainbridge, Ga., March 28.—(Special.)—The Bainbridge Board of Trade has taken up the matter of getting a branch of the United States court for Bainbridge. The Bainbridge organization believes that the best interests of the people in this section of the state can be served if a branch of the court is established nearer the center of southwest Georgia.

As it is, witnesses, jurors and others having business before the United States court must attend in Valdosta. This works a great hardship on people in Decatur, Early, Grady and Miller counties, and is a source of great expense to the government.

The matter has been taken up with Congressman Park and the two senators.

HOWARD FOR EMBARGO ON GASOLINE EXPORTS

Georgian Will Introduce Bill for That Purpose—Hopes to Curb Price.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, March 28.—Representative William Schley Howard is framing a measure for introduction in the house tomorrow to place an embargo on gasoline shipments from this country to foreign ports with a view to curbing what he believes is an unjustifiable advance in prices of petroleum products. Mr. Howard stated that he would have the co-operation of Senator Hoke Smith in this movement.

Forbidden by the constitution from laying any tax or duty on the export of gasoline, he will ask congress to seek to curb the refinery by forbidding absolutely any of their products leaving American shores, until prices reach a level which the president, in his judgment, believes justifiable.

Among the explanations given for the rising trend of prices, is that production has decreased in the last nine months, while the use of oil in this country as fuel and the refined product in gasoline engines, have increased as well as exportation abroad.

These are said to be sound economic reasons for the advance, and justify present prices under the natural law of supply and demand.

Mr. Howard says he is prepared to show that there has been no decrease in production and that the falling off in yield of the Cushing oil pool has been more than overcome by new drillings.

Neither has there been such an increased exportation as would cause a shortage in this country which would justify an advance in rates, he says. Yet prices are to be advanced another three cents a gallon on April 1.

In a conference with Secretary of Commerce Redfield today, Mr. Howard learned that the department had been unable to make a contract for the government's requirements of gasoline for the year beginning July 1 at less than 40 cents a gallon.

The attention of Mr. Howard has been directed to this matter by appeals by letter from Georgia friends as well as editorials in The Constitution and other state papers.

Commissioner Harris, who is directing the investigation, ordered by the federal trade commission into the causes of present prices, estimates that the result of his inquiry can be given to the country by April 30.

TO CURTAIL OUTPUT IS DECISION MADE BY SAWMILL MEN

Savannah, Ga., March 28.—The Georgia-Florida Saw Mill association, with a membership composed of saw mill men in the two states, today passed a resolution calling upon lumbermen to curtail the output of their plants pending an adjustment of the problem of deliveries. A committee was appointed to prepare a letter to the entire membership asking for co-operation along this line.

It was found the lumber situation was satisfactory except for the failure to make deliveries on account of the lumber embargoes congestion at the ports. R. S. Kellog, of Chicago, secretary of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association, delivered an address before the convention.

Mrs. Peel Presents Striking Illustrations Showing Conditions Along Peachtree Street

(This is the fourteenth of a series of articles by Mrs. William Lawson Peel, president of the City Beautiful club of the Joseph Habersham chapter, D. A. R., and chairman of civics of the City Federation of Women's clubs.)

No city or commonwealth can have a prouder possession than a good citizen. If all citizens were good citizens it would be like the kingdom of heaven. The way to make good citizens is to appeal to the loyalty and patriotism. This is an age of singular devotion and unselfishness. Every man is looking out for his brother. Everybody is trying to do something for somebody else. This is the golden age of the world. All you have to do is to direct a man's attention to something better and he is right with you. Maybe the cares of business have kept it out of his mind. Or, perhaps, love of home and family have filled all his thought, or a dancing wife has kept him busy going to parties, in and out of office hours. Or maybe the man is just a clod who looks down at his feet all the time and never sees any of the beauties of God's country.

We are asking all good citizens to wake up this morning with the old Atlanta spirit and to take a look at Peachtree street.

Peachtree Street.

This famous street is known all over the world. It is distinctly an asset to the city, and ranks in a way with such well-known thoroughfares as Rue de la Paix, Fifth avenue and Euclid avenue. Letters from across the ocean have been delivered here addressed simply "Peachtree Street." There could not be a mistake—there is no other! It is also the longest street in the world—somebody has said, "it goes all the way to Jersey City." But it is not paved all the way. And speaking of pavements, certainly not in the whole world do you find anything in a class with this, from Five Points to Brookwood. The photographer came out and he said: "What shall I take." And I replied: "Take the w-h-o-l-e thing!" But he said: "Madam, The Constitution isn't big enough."

But with the views herewith presented we can see what our visitors will have to look at when they are taken bumpety-bump out our principal street. These pictures are easily recognized and speak for themselves. Any comment would be unnecessary.

Why the Delay?

Some of the largest taxpayers in the city live on this street. Some of the most elegant homes are found there. Time and again we are promised a new pavement. Time and again we read in the papers that work on the street will begin right away. And last week I read that "work on Peachtree would begin as soon as the committee decided what kind of pavement to lay!" Great heavens, how long will it take them to make up their minds and why haven't they been doing that all this time?

Who can look at the desecration of this famous street and say that the people of Atlanta do not need a boss? Soon our city will be filled with brilliant crowds—the nabobs of creation, attracted by the Metropolitan grand opera. Some will come, seeking investment. Some will come attracted by our climate, seeking homes. All will fancy that this is a wonderful city to have such opera. And then when they ride out our principal residence street with its outrageous pavement, its ragged sidewalks, its ill-kept lawns and flowerless gardens, its rubbish heaps and unsightly vacant lots, what will they think of us? Let's everyone get busy and furbish up our homes and have some flowers around, and polish up the handle of the big front door, for, indeed and indeed, we must be on dress parade.

Top picture—The famous "lake" on Peachtree street at the intersection of Seventeenth street. On account of defective engineering water settles almost entirely across the street at this point every time it rains, and Mrs. Peel has been calling attention to this "lake" for more than two years, urging a remedy. Middle picture—Series of water-holes that form in Peachtree street, north of Fourteenth street, every time it rains. Bottom picture—This is not Belgium, but Peachtree street, Atlanta. The photo shows the debris on the old English place, at Peachtree and Howard streets, which has been an eyesore for several months.

THE DAY'S GRIST FROM THE STATE POLITICAL MILL

JACKSON SAYS THEY'RE ALL COMING TO ATLANTA MEETING

Henry S. Jackson, of Atlanta, leader of the Jackson-Pickett wing of the republican party in Georgia, stated that he has received messages from all parts of the state showing that county after county, in their county republican conventions, are voting to send delegates to the Jackson wing convention in Atlanta and to send none to the Walter H. "I have received a telegram from one county chairman," says Mr. Jackson, "who says that every county in his entire district has voted to send delegates to the Atlanta convention and none to the Macon convention.

NO MONEY FOR SMOKE NUISANCE ABATEMENT

The department of city government charged with abating the smoke nuisance has been deleted from the duties of the mechanical engineering commission, because of failure of the city council to appropriate funds for its continuance.

When the commission was first created it was charged with the duty of supervising smoke conditions and the testing of gas. Later there were added to it the duties of boiler and elevator inspection and the testing of oil and coal used by the city.

The smoke abatement department of the commission was composed of Charles F. Payne, Charles H. Barnes Oscar Elsas, Ellis L. Smith, J. M. Hollowell, A. M. Schoen and J. M. Van Harlingen.

W. & T. RAILROAD CO. ASKS CLASS D RATES

Commission Takes This and Thomasville Telephone Petition Under Consideration.

The Wrightsville and Tennille Railroad company appeared before the state railroad commission Monday asking to be transferred from class C to class D of the railroad commission freight classification.

The transfer is asked on the ground that its net earnings were reduced from $115,000 in 1914 to $50,000 in 1915. That out of the net earnings taxes, interest on funded debt, hire of equipment, and other charges are paid. That for the month of January, 1916, the road operated at a loss of $2,800 and in February at a loss of $3,000.

The cause of the reduction was attributed to poor business conditions and increasing automobile competition.

Ten Per Cent Increase.

The increase in rates asked for would mean 10 per cent on lumber and other articles in class P, and about 22 per cent on high-class merchandise in classifications 1 to 6. The change would not affect rate on cotton which carries the same rating in both classifications.

The argument in behalf of the granting of the application was made by H. D. Pollard, president, and M. V. Mahoney, general freight and passenger agent. Directors J. S. Wood, of Savannah, and E. T. Comer, of Milhaven, were present.

The application was resisted by J. M. Cook, of Wrightsville, representing the Wrightsville Chamber of Commerce and board of trade.

The commission sat as a whole taking the matter under advisement.

Thomasville 'Phone Case.

The commission also heard the application of Consolidated Telephone and Telegraph company, of Thomasville, asking to be allowed authority to increase telephone rentals 50 cents per month. The applicant operates seven or eight exchanges in southwest Georgia and desires to standardize its operation and service. No protest was offered. The matter was taken under advisement.

MACON PLANS FOUNTAIN TO MISS ROSA EUBANKS

Her Death Resulted in Closing City's Saloons and Ousting Tigers.

Macon, Ga., March 28.—(Special.)—Macon is going to erect a fountain in memory of Miss Rosa Margaret Eubanks, the young woman who was shot down on Second street several weeks ago by a bullet fired by drink-crazed D. B. Branam, and whose death so aroused Macon that every near beer saloon in the city has been closed and hundreds of blind tigers put out of business. The day Miss Eubanks was killed whisky could be purchased openly in every near beer saloon in the city with the exception of one or two. Today not a drop can be purchased and fifteen or twenty car loads of whisky that had been stored here for sale has been sent back to the wholesale dealers in other cities. Men who were selling it have taken the pledge never again to engage in the sale of liquor so long as such sale is made illegal by state law.

The city council has been asked by the Eubanks Memorial committee to name the park on Poplar street where the old city market house formerly stood "Eubanks' Park," and to erect thereon a drinking fountain as a suitable memorial to the young woman. The Philathea classes of the city, to which Miss Eubanks belonged, are behind the movement and the W. C. T. U. is co-operating. Children of the public schools will be called on for contributions of from five to ten cents each. Several hundred dollars will be raised and the fountain to be erected will be of pure white marble, symbolic of the young woman's pure life.

Railroad Engineers of the South Smoke and Endorse Tuxedo!

Men of steady nerves, quick judgment and instant action are those who stand at the engine throttles and guide speeding trains over the railroads of the South.

They smoke Tuxedo!

More than that—they smoke it with genuine enthusiasm, because Tuxedo enables them to enjoy their pipes as no other tobacco ever did.

Read what they say about Tuxedo: "Better than ever!" "The longer I smoke it the better I like it!" "Getting better all the time!" "Tried others but come back to Tuxedo!"

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

Ever since Tuxedo scored its first wonderful success a host of imitators have been talking about mild tobaccos and "biteless" tobaccos and so-called "processes."

Yet Tuxedo remains today the fastest-growing brand of high-grade smoking tobacco in the South. Because no imitation can equal the original—and the original Tuxedo Process—discovered by a doctor—is still the one process that actually does remove all the bite from the tobacco.

In previous advertisements your own Southern tobacco merchants have told you in signed letters of the remarkable growth of Tuxedo in popularity and sales. There are more Tuxedo smokers in the South now than ever before. Every day men are forsaking other tobaccos for mild, wholesome Tuxedo.

Try Tuxedo yourself and you'll learn why these well-known engineers and thousands of other Southerners now smoke only Tuxedo.

J. R. HOLLIDAY, Constitution Building, sole Advertising Manager for all territory outside Atlanta.

The address of the Washington Bureau is No. 1727 S. Street, N. W., Mr. John Corrigan, Jr., staff correspondent, in charge.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York city by 2 p. m. the day after issue. It can be had: Hotaling's Newsstands, Broadway and Forty-second street (Times building corner), Thirty-eighth street and Broadway and Twenty-ninth street and Broadway.

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents.

ALL WILL FAVOR IT!

Candidate for county commissioner, W. M. Poole, comes again this morning with a strong presentation of his position in favor of a university high school system, constructed and conducted under the joint auspices of both county and city.

The Constitution commented yesterday upon the strong advocacy of this plan by Candidate for Commissioner Knight.

Candidate Poole is evidently making this one of the strongest features in his platform, for, from the very beginning, he has made this one of his most potent appeals.

There are other candidates to be heard from and The Constitution believes every one of them will in due time openly and earnestly advocate the university high school system.

Our columns are open to an expression from each of them.

Whoever may be nominated in the primary on April 28, the two successful candidates will be zealous advocates of the university high school system.

ACROSS THE CUMBERLANDS.

The Constitution is in frequent receipt of communications which, like the following, ask information as to available all-weather motor routes between the south and the northwest:

> Editor Constitution: I contemplate motoring to my home in Minneapolis, Minn., from here. I wish to know if the roads are passable in all kinds of weather. Would I have to lay over for any length of time if I should meet a rainy period? I will thank you for any information. C. S. BRACKETT.
> Palm Beach county, Florida.

If it were not for three counties on each branch of the Dixie highway north of Chattanooga, there would have been no difficulty in referring Mr. Brackett to the Dixie highway with the suggestion that upon reaching the junction point he might take either division that appealed to him.

On the eastern route of the Dixie highway from Chattanooga north via Knoxville and Cincinnati to Detroit, the three counties in question are those lying just north of the Kentucky-Tennessee line and across the Cumberland range. Otherwise the road straight through is good and serviceable in almost any season.

This situation, however, has been taken care of by the people of Knoxville, Middlesboro and Cincinnati, whose organization back of the eastern route has succeeded in authorizing a bond issue in each of these three Kentucky counties. The money has been provided; the work will soon be under way, and it will probably be completed before the end of the present year. This will complete the through routing of the eastern division of the Dixie highway—and it becomes merely a matter of maintenance after that.

But on the western wing of the route the situation is very different. In the three Tennessee counties next to Hamilton, in which Chattanooga is located—likewise across the Cumberland range—nothing has been done, and this short section of a proposed great highway reaching from the lakes to the gulf is untravelable in any sort of bad weather.

With these three Cumberland mountain counties between Chattanooga and Nashville constituting practically an impassable gap in what is otherwise a splendid road all the way from extreme southern Florida to the uppermost of the Great Lakes, there is presented the pitiable aspect of a barrier erected across this great road enterprise reaching through seven states. Traffic knows it and is naturally seeking an outlet. That outlet is the road from Nashville to Huntsville, Ala., thence to Rome and Cartersville, at which latter point it joins the Dixie highway into Atlanta.

Does Chattanooga propose to lose the western branch of the Dixie highway? She is even now on the point of doing it with the prospective transfer of the junction point to Cartersville, Ga., because these three of her neighbor counties in Tennessee are holding in check this splendid road development. If Chattanooga would do what Knoxville and Cincinnati have done, she might bring about the needed improvement across the Cumberland range and hold both eastern and western routes through Tennessee and Kentucky into the distant north and west.

But if Chattanooga neglects this opportunity, she may expect the deviation of the western route from Nashville to Huntsville and from thence to Rome and Atlanta because this will be the most attractive road unless the situation is relieved in the three mountain counties.

It is a misfortune that three counties should permit themselves or be permitted to constitute the one obstacle to the completion of such a development.

It is impossible to believe that the route between Chattanooga and Nashville will consent to the loss of the western route through failure to insist that every county along it does its duty.

MUSICAL ATLANTA.

Atlanta, not only as a present, but as a still greater future musical center, is the interesting subject of discussion in a communication The Constitution publishes today from Leonard Liebling, editor of The Musical Courier, the leading musical authority of the United States.

Mr. Liebling, of course, bases his discussion upon the wonderful showing Atlanta has made as regards grand opera, with seven annual seasons of a full week each in which the world's most expensive musical productions, with the foremost among the world's stars, have more than paid their way. The present season, just ahead, even now promises to eclipse all others, both in point of brilliancy and financial success; for, with the end of the season ticket sale, and before the single tickets have been offered, it is announced that the guarantors are already abundantly protected, and would be safe if the season opened tomorrow.

It is in the doing of this thing, which would be impossible in any other city of Atlanta's size, perhaps, in the world, and in the spirit in which it is done, that Mr. Liebling sees the coming of Atlanta as a great national musical center with all that it means in the organization of musical associations and the development of the musical sense; sees, too, the radial effect of this development throughout the territory tributary to Atlanta, which is to say, most of the south.

Mr. Liebling's prediction will interest not only music lovers, but all Atlantans who would like to see substantial development along cultural and uplifting lines. That development has already begun, but, as Mr. Liebling says, it is simply the beginning; six seasons have wonderfully raised our musical standards, and there is no telling to what heights others shall carry them.

READ THE THRIFT PAGE.

One hundred years ago the first savings banks were opened in the United States, one in Philadelphia and the other in Boston. Since then the savings habit has grown, and grown throughout the country until the savings today figure way up in the hundreds of millions; in fact, into the incomprehensible billions.

But the trouble about it is these savings are so unevenly distributed. While the per capita savings for the entire country is $71, that for the New England states is $245; for the eastern states $135, and so on down until in the southern states we find it is only $10. In other words, the savings in the New England states are 2,450 per cent greater than they are right here in Georgia.

We talk about the thrifty New Englanders in somewhat of a spirit of generous envy; and yet there is nothing whatever to stand in the way of our growing equally in wealth and strength except our failure to practice the policy that has made New England the wealthiest section of all the United States.

To inspire the people of Atlanta and vicinity with this spirit of thrift the Atlanta banks are spending a large sum of money just to tell them what thrift is, what it means and what it will do for them.

They have told it briefly and to the point; they have told it interestingly. Every Atlantan should read, and if he will read he will enjoy the thrift page in today's Constitution. Even the thrifty will find new thoughts in it; those who are not, may learn the way.

As thrift is a matter of individual habit, its benefits and advantages accrue most largely to the individual. Persisted in, the habit provides unerringly for his own protection, for his ultimate independence. It is only in the aggregate of individual thrift that it is of value to the state.

The man who carefully reads today's thrift page cannot fail to be convinced of its direct value to himself. If he profits by it, no better service could be done him than the advice which is here given.

GOVERNOR NAMES W. C. BRYAN CITY JUDGE OF DOUGLAS

Governor Harris Tuesday morning named Walter C. Bryan to succeed W. C. Lankford as judge of the city court of Douglas. Dr. Bryan was formerly editor of The Douglas Enterprise and is a physician.

The vacancy of city judge of Douglas was created by the resignation of Judge Lankford to enter the congressional race in the eleventh district. Judge Lankford seeks to succeed to the seat now held by Representative Randall Walker.

SUPERINTENDENT BRITTAIN TO SPEAK AT OCILLA

EVANS COUNTY REPRESENTATIVE NOT NAMED IN MANUAL

Deputy Attorney General Mark Bolding made the discovery Tuesday that Evans county has no representative in the general assembly. Having occasion to ascertain the names of the Evans county representatives a reference to the manual disclosed that no one appeared for that county. Investigation among office employees of the state house failed to develop any trace of such an official. Evans county was created in 1914, and the presumption is that it was not legally entitled to representation in the assembly. State Senator J. B. Way, representing the second district, of which Evans county is a part, is the only official for the new county that can be located.

SCARCITY OF BAGGING MATERIAL PUTS BURLAP IN BIG DEMAND

Burlap bags, the old-fashioned gunny sack, have been a waste product in Georgia for years. According to Dr. Peter F. Bahnsen, state veterinarian, thousands of tons of this really valuable bagging has been going to waste annually. The recent scarcity of bagging material has caused an active demand for the discarded burlap. The present quotation is 5 cents the bag, with or without holes, offered by the Burnett Bag and Burlap company, of Baltimore, according to a letter received by the state official Tuesday.

HEALTH SECRETARY RETURNS FROM TRIP THROUGH STATE

Dr. H. F. Harris, secretary for the state board of health, returned last night from a trip throughout the state made in the interest of his department. Dr. Harris spoke at a meeting of the Southeastern Sanitary association in Brunswick March 23-24, on "Causation of Pellagra."

Candidate Poole Strongly Stresses Advocacy of University High School

Editor Constitution: I notice with a great deal of pleasure and interest the campaign you are waging in the interest of the education of our boys and girls. I notice, too, that you suggest that candidates for office—those who may be largely in position to help in such matters in the event of their election—should speak out and let the people know where they stand on this highly important question.

Allow me to state that as a candidate for county commissioner, I advocated even before your recent suggestion, that not only our county school system should be brought up to the very highest efficiency possible, but that the county should co-operate with the city in erecting and maintaining a higher university of learning than at present we possess. In my platform, printed in the public press, I advocated this, and promised to work to this end if elected.

There is no higher duty than can claim the attention and service of either private individuals or those who hold legislative positions than that of seeing that our children are furnished every advantage for securing a thorough and complete education. And while I stand on a platform which promises, if elected, my best efforts to secure many improvements for the city of Atlanta and the county of Fulton, I deem none of them of more importance than the work of aiding in the education of our children. I am thoroughly in harmony and sympathy with you and your valuable paper in championing this cause, and am glad that you have taken the trouble to interrogate the various candidates on this issue.

A Conflagration Menace.

Editor Constitution: While the city of Atlanta undoubtedly leads the south in general progress, she also leads in the great number of inflammable shingle roofs.

We should take warning from the conflagrations of last week which destroyed property valued at about $12,000,000, which was covered by insurance to the amount of only about $7,000,000, causing an actual loss to the property owners of fully $5,000,000.

In all three cities the fires could have been checked before conflagration proportions had developed had the buildings been covered with materials other than shingles.

In Paris, Texas, the burning shingles were carried by the wind eight and ten blocks, thus spreading the fire with great rapidity.

A dwelling costing $125,000, with a tile roof, and a church with a slate roof, escaped uninjured, while all the other buildings in the vicinity, which had shingle roofs, were destroyed.

It is astonishing that a city the size of Atlanta should have no law prohibiting the indiscriminate building of shingle roofs, as all other cities of any consequence have.

We cannot afford to take the chances of a conflagration, which is certainly possible, under the present conditions, and our city council should pass an ordinance as soon as possible prohibiting shingle roofs within the city limits, thereby eliminating to a large extent the great hazard which is menacing our city.

GRAND OPERA SHOULD RESULT IN MUSICAL INSTITUTIONS ALL ATLANTA'S OWN, SAYS LIEBLING

Editor Constitution: Grand opera no longer is an experiment in Atlanta, but an assured and successful fact. When I am given the privilege, therefore, to tell on this page something of the significance of grand opera as it is presented and promulgated in Atlanta, I feel like taking the role of the prophet rather than that of the statistician.

The financial results of the local week of grand opera interests me only negatively, for it is generally conceded that they do not represent the true barometer by which to gauge the degree of average musical culture in Atlanta. Opera stands for only one form of musical endeavor and culture, and by its very nature is a luxury and an exotic in tonal art. It has nothing of the essence of symphony, chamber music and choral performance, which are opposed to sensationalism and surface exploitation and necessarily appeal chiefly to those persons who love the work rather than the performers, and whose hero worship consists of reverence for the composers and not blind adoration of their headlined and Sunday-page featured interpreters.

LEONARD LIEBLING,
Editor Musical Courier.

This may be admitted without any slight to grand opera and its promoters and exponents, and it is as true as the fact that some of the noblest composers of all time, like Mozart, Weber, Wagner, Verdi and Strauss, wrote in the grand opera form. Others of the exalted band tried their hand at the game and failed, like Schumann, Berlioz, Schubert, etc. The great sorrow of Beethoven's life was the failure of his opera, "Fidelio." As towering a master as Brahms regretted always that he lacked the ability to write a grand opera because he "did not know enough." Chopin and Liszt were others who cast covetous eyes on the fame and profit to be derived from grand opera. Mighty old Handel was a successful writer of grand operas before he became the world's most popular provider of oratorio. In consequence of this record of attention paid to grand opera by the musical masters of all the ages, it behooves us to look upon that form of production as one not wholly ruinous to the more sober kinds of music-making.

We should take off our hats to any community willing and able to spend approximately $100,000 in a week for grand opera; on the other hand, we should keep our hats off permanently to that community willing and able to spend $2,000 per week for fifty-two weeks in the year, for all manner of good music publicly performed, symphony, chamber and choral music, song and instrumental recitals.

Disagrees With Grand Opera Objectors.

I cannot take the stand of some of the objectors to grand opera here, that the week of extravagant performances kills all the local legitimate musical endeavor for the rest of the year.

There are many wealthy cities in America which are not thrilled by the fascination of a grand opera week, and yet they do not possess symphony orchestras. Symphony is not the sport of the masses, and in this country symphony orchestras do not spring up as the result of popular uprisings demanding that the municipalities and the national government give the people symphony orchestras or give them death. Those symphony orchestras which we have in America represent the work usually of a small group of persons in each locality and often they stand for the ambition and musical love of a single individual who contributes the necessary money or else induces several dozen of his fellow citizens and business associates to do so.

Colonel Higginson made the Boston Symphony Orchestra possible through his single-handed generosity; Joseph Pulitzer left almost $1,000,000 to the New York Philharmonic at the moment when that ancient body seemed about to perish from financial inanition; Mr. H. H. Flagler guarantees $60,000 annually to the New York Symphony Orchestra; the Cincinnati Orchestra has been endowed with $700,000 through a bequest in the will of the late Miss Dow. The magnificent Chicago Orchestra is permanent, because of the public spirit of the citizens of that community. They subscribed in amounts ranging from $1 to thousands of dollars to a fund that totalled almost a million dollars. Today the orchestra is housed in a building of its own facing Lake Michigan. The orchestras of Minneapolis, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Antonio, Fort Worth, Houston and numerous other cities are monuments to the liberality of the business men of those places.

Many of these orchestras are the expressions of a desire on the part of their guarantors to advertise the wealth, culture and spiritual progressiveness of the cities in which they live and do business, much as the week of grand opera in Atlanta speaks for those factors in the civic showing of this center. The musical motive in these movements may be obscure in the minds of some of the contributors to the operating expenses, but the advertising value of the projects stands out with unmistakable prominence.

A Great Commercial Asset.

In the case of Atlanta, the opera week is a commercial asset of phenomenal potency. I have just traveled through the entire southwest and south from Los Angeles and El Paso to Atlanta, and in all that territory I have not been in a city where I did not encounter constant mention of the opera week here. We heard persons making appointments to meet in Atlanta the end of April for the opera; countless others asked us about the repertoire and the casts; we saw signs in shop windows reading "Gowns for the Atlanta Opera," "Gloves for the Atlanta Opera," etc., and in the prospectus of many music clubs in widely separated localities I noticed that the Atlanta grand operas for this year were in the study curriculum. What the display of wealth and fashion means to the business credit and standing of Atlanta, and what the expenditures for hotel outlay, entertaining and general purchasing accomplish financially here, I need not dwell upon, for those are elementary facts which must be clear even to those not accustomed to look for commercial returns in matters of music.

It was a real pleasure to hear that the profits from the opera venture went originally toward the installation of an organ in the Auditorium, and now keep up the fund with which to pay a city organist and institute free Sunday concerts. Even those local musicians who are opposed to grand opera have admitted to me that the Sunday concerts are of a very high artistic order and constitute some of the best musical material presented here during the year.

It appears to me that the best interests of music would be served if all the local forces, civic, social, commercial and musical, would stand unitedly behind the opera venture and by co-operation and moral, practical and monetary support continue to make it an overwhelming success, so that profits could be rolled up with which to undertake further musical achievements that would redound to the cultural significance of Atlanta, and possibly build up in the not too distant future some big musical institution indicative of the musical knowledge and tonal talent and ambition of this city—an Atlanta symphony orchestra, an Atlanta chorus, an Atlanta grand opera company. Perhaps all three.

Atlanta Music Festival Directors.

I have met the gentlemen who are the prime movers in the opera week, and they are men of wide insight, intelligence and civic ambition. They all have the most optimistic view of Atlanta's musical future, and they are not in the musical field for personal gain or publicity. They have big things in mind for Atlanta, if they may be assured of the solid support and confidence of every section of the community, including the body of professional musicians. It is not unlikely that some of the directors, if not all of them, are harboring the dream of an Atlanta symphony orchestra which shall be all Atlanta's own. And with men of their stamp the transition from big dreams to big realities is not a slow process in the accomplishment. Minneapolis has a symphony orchestra which plays in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago, as was the case recently. Cincinnati has a symphony orchestra which plays all over the country. If Minneapolis and Cincinnati, why not Atlanta?

I, for one, am confident that the day will come when Atlanta will send something of its own to New York to show the metropolis the musical potentiality of this city, rather than to import from the banks of the Hudson something with which to show Atlanta what is being done in the bigger sister city of the north. However, I am an incurable optimist and an unshakable believer in the musical future of American cities of the size, strength and dignity of Atlanta.

LEONARD LIEBLING,
Editor Musical Courier.

WILL TREAT ATLANTA'S DRUG ADDICTS AT FRANKLIN SPRINGS AFTER APRIL 1

Further than that the state board of health will be able to care for about fifty addicts at Franklin Springs, it is not decided how the local drug addict situation will be handled after April 1 when the city treatment ceases by order of the city medical board.

Under the plan worked out by the state board of health, fifty addicts from Atlanta and the fifth district will be treated at Franklin Springs, Royston. In the city of Atlanta alone there are several hundreds of addicts in need of treatment, according to present information. This district has provided no institution where its addicts can be sent to be cared for under the state appropriation.

When the state board of health took up treatment in Atlanta, on account of the number of prescriptions issued in out-patient clinics the United States internal revenue department protested.

The city then undertook to treat her addicts under the city health department, instead of their being treated by the state board of health.

Treatment Ceases April 1.

The city authorities found several weeks ago that the city physician's office was unable to cope with the rush of addicts for treatment, and ordered the treatment to cease on April 1.

Under the state-wide plan each congressional district is to furnish a hospital for the treatment of addicts in their respective districts. Each patient received in the hospital or institution will receive a two weeks' treatment and longer if the case warrants a continuation. It is estimated by the state board that each patient can receive the two weeks' treatment at a cost to the state of about $25.

On account of the low appropriation made by the state for the purpose, the total appropriation being for $10,000, it is not thought by the state authorities that more than four hundred addicts can be treated, at a high estimate, before the appropriation is exhausted. The board arrives at this estimate by allowing two weeks to each patient at a cost of $25 per patient.

In accordance with the agreement reached at the recent called meeting of the state board of health, arranging for the hospitals in each district, the health department reports that nine of the congressional districts have furnished hospitals and the remaining three will send their addicts to other districts.

The hospitals are distributed among the twelve dstricts as follows:

District Institutions.

First district, Savannah, two institutions; second district, institutes are located at Tifton, Thomasville and Cairo; third district, two institutions are located at Cordele and one at Plains; fourth district, one institution at Columbus; seventh district, one institution at Rome; eighth district, one institute at Franklin Springs; ninth district, one institution at Gainesville; tenth district, one institute at Augusta; eleventh district, institutes at Douglas and Waycross.

No institutes are designated for the fifth, sixth and twelfth districts.

According to a statement made Tuesday by City Physician J. G. Hall, there are about three hundred and eighty pauper addicts in Atlanta. In addition to these the city physician pointed out that the government report gives approximately one thousand victims in the city. In discussing the matter he says:

City Did Good Work.

"The city health department, under the supervision of the city physician's office, has treated between 280 and 320 addicts of the pauper class within the past six weeks.

"I understand that there are about sixty applications by local addicts made already to the state health board for treatment.

"If the fifth district is able to secure the admission of fifty patients to the Franklin Springs institution, as its proportion of the amount all over the state requiring treatment, it is very fortunate. The appropriation is very small, and fifty patients from this district will be very good.

"The appropriation is wholly inadequate for the purposes for which it is intended. I am glad if this district will be able to secure as many as is estimated.

"The work of treatment carried on by the city health department was very effective. During the reduction treatment carried on for the past six weeks the results were more than satisfactory."

Build Ships.

Editor Constitution: "Ships—after the war" should be the "war cry" of every citizen of America, and they should "cry" until congress answers with the largest and best shipping facilities in the world. The time has come when we must be prepared to take care of our interests; the most important, SHIPS.

I thank you for the good work you are doing for Georgia and the south.

PIECE OF THREAD SOLVES BIG THEFT

Express Driver Borrowed Thread, It Is Alleged, to Sew Up Sack From Which $5,000 Was Taken.

Columbus, Ga., March 28.—(Special.) When M. M. Sadler, a driver for the Southern Express company, borrowed some thread and a needle at the union passenger station in Columbus Thursday he gave the detectives a clue that resulted in his being charged with having stolen $5,000 in bills from the company. The $5,000 constituted a part of a shipment of $25,000 being made by the Third National bank of Columbus to the Citizens and Southern bank, of Savannah, the money being in the custody of the express company.

When the canvas sack that was supposed to contain the $25,000 was opened in Savannah Friday morning and it was found that one of the packages containing $5,000 was missing, the Citizens and Southern bank officials were at first puzzled, as the seal across the top of the sack was intact when received and the sack itself appeared not to have been cut in any way.

Sack Ripped and Sewed.

Subsequently a more careful examination of the sack was made, however, and it was found that it had been ripped at the bottom and very carefully resewed. Sadler, the driver for the express company who carried the money in his wagon from the express office to the train, has since confessed to the theft, it is said. He evidently ripped open the bag and secured the money before the shipment of currency was placed on the train.

When the express people and detectives learned in an incidental way that he had borrowed the thread and needle, suspicion centered on the driver, for it was presumed that he had resewed the sack with this thread.

This theory was strengthened when it developed that Sadler left the city for his home in Tuscaloosa, Ala., saying that he was going to visit his sick mother. It was learned by the detectives that his mother was not ill and that he did not go to Tuscaloosa. He was located, however, and is said to have confessed to the theft to H. M. Smith, of Macon, district superintendent of the Southern Express company. He agreed to restore the money and has not yet been formally arrested, although under the close surveillance of the detectives who are with him. Eight detectives are working on the case.

Somewhere in Alabama.

Tonight the express people, detectives and Sadler are "somewhere in Alabama" searching for the missing money. The express people have no statement to give out further than to say that the situation is satisfactory and they seem to have no doubt as to the recovery of the money. Just why the delay has occurred in actually recovering the money, has not developed.

It was reported here today, although not confirmed, that the party is in the vicinity of Opelika, Ala. It will be a day or two before the situation is entirely cleared up and it may be as late as Friday before the money is actually recovered and the party returned to Columbus, it is stated.

In view of Sadler's reported confession and his desire to return the money, there is speculation as to how vigorously he will be prosecuted. Sadler is a young man about 25 years old and has a wife but no children. He has been in the employ of the Southern Express company for some time.

Superintendent Smith, of Macon, has been in personal charge of the case, having come to Columbus as soon as the loss of the money was reported. It is said that the theory he formed from the first as to the facts in the case has been borne out by the developments.

FAIR, WARM WEATHER HERE TODAY—MAYBE

Although up until a late hour last night there were no indications of its fulfilment, the weather report for today is "fair and warmer."

Tuesday was a raw, cloudy day, tinctured with a biting chill that brought out the overcoats and wraps that had been discarded during last week's radiant spell of spring.

There was a light frost last night in the low places throughout the northeastern and southern parts of the state.

The cloudy disturbance that prevailed Tuesday, however, has moved slowly northeastward and is now existing over Virginia. This is expected to precipitate the milder weather that was predicted for today.

Light westerly winds will prevail.

MAY BRING INNESES TO ATLANTA NEXT WEEK

It was reported in Atlanta yesterday afternoon that Governor Ferguson, of Texas, had granted requisition papers for Victor Innes and wife, instituted by Georgia.

The Inneses are expected to be brought before Monday from San Antonio, where they have been imprisoned almost two years, and prosecuted in the Fulton county courts for larceny after trust—incident to the disappearance of the Nelms sisters in 1914.

The news of Governor Ferguson's action was brought to the city in private reports. Marshall Nelms, brother of the sisters, stated last night that he had heard nothing official from Texas, but expected advices this morning.

County Policeman Carl C. Heard and Detective John Starnes will be sent to San Antonio when official news is had from the Texas governor.

$60,000 CASH IS PAID FOR NORTH SIDE LOT

James Place on Peachtree Is Sold to Moultrie Man. Other Cash Sales.

An important sale of Peachtree street frontage, involving a cash consideration of $60,000, was disclosed in realty announcements yesterday.

The purchaser is Senator John A. Carlton, a prominent banker of Moultrie, Ga., who will build a handsome structure to be devoted to mercantile uses on his new property at an early date.

Smith, Ewing & Rankin handled the transaction.

They sold for Mrs. S. C. James to Senator Carlton, the James place on Peachtree street, between the junction of Peachtree and West Peachtree and Porter Place.

This parcel fronts 50 feet on the west side of Peachtree, and on its northern boundary has a depth of 185 feet and a depth of 160 feet on the southern boundary line. A dwelling house is on the property. The property begins at a point 337 feet north of the junction of the two Peachtrees.

The cash consideration of $60,000 is equal to $1,200 a front foot.

J. H. Whitten, of M. L. Thrower's real estate agency, also made a cash purchase for himself in the real estate market Tuesday. He bought a couple of parcels on West Fair street, his argument being that "now is the time to buy Atlanta real estate." He is practicing his own preachings.

TO MAKE RAILROADS MAINTAIN BRIDGES IS ASHLEY'S PLAN

The bridge committee of council will hold a special meeting Thursday afternoon at which time, it is said, a resolution will be introduced by Councilman Claude Ashley, by the provisions of which the city of Atlanta will be able to force all railroads over whose right-of-ways bridges are constructed to pay for the maintenance of those bridges.

It is understood that a lively fight will be on between representatives of the railroads and the city, according to advance dope on the situation, and the altercation will hinge on whether or not the city has a right to force any corporation to pay for the maintenance of bridges or viaducts built over its property.

LECONTE PEAR CROP SEEMS TO BE FAILURE

Thomasville, Ga., March 28.—(Special.)—There seems little doubt now that the LeConte pear crop will be a failure this season, to a great extent at least. Up to a short time ago the crop promised to be one of the finest ever known in this section, but it has since been attacked by a blight which has just about ruined it. The growers think it is caused by the dry weather, high winds and late cold.

SCHOOL ATHLETES TRAIN FOR MEET

It is expected that some hot races will be staged, as each school has several track stars among their athletes. The events are open to the public, and an admission fee of ten cents will be charged to defray the expenses.

Mrs. Joe Heath was thrown completely over the windshield and her clothing badly torn. Mr. Heath had a leg injured and the car was almost demolished. E. D. McRae, who was driving, escaped injury. JACKSON AND MANGET OPPOSED TO CARNIVAL

Tell Marietta Street Merchants They Must Not Have Certain Features.

A conference of the officers of the Marietta Street Merchants' association, which is staging the big spring jubilee for the week of April 3, was called in session in the office of the Elaborated Roofing company yesterday morning to hear a protest from Marion Jackson and John A. Manget against the participation of the Con T. Kennedy shows in the proposed carnival.

Those present were George Barrett and L. E. Williams, the former of whom is secretary of the association; R. K. Rambo, vice president, and David Goldin, one of the prime movers of the jubilee.

Mr. Jackson acted as spokesman, announcing that he and Mr. Manget were serving as a committee representing the Men and Religion executive committee. Mr. Manget asserted that he would not take any action if the Marietta association co-operated with him and Mr. Jackson.

Mr. Jackson protested against the Kennedy shows on the ground that he had been advised of their alleged gambling operations in a number of neighboring towns, and also recalled the encounter that occurred with the show organization when it played on the midway at the Georgia Harvest festival.

He also expressed his opinion that Atlanta had outgrown the carnival stage. He was given the assurance of the association officers that they would co-operate with him and Mr. Manget in the effort to suppress any offensive elements that might develop. Mr. Jackson was shown a contract with Con T. Kennedy providing against gambling devices or concession stands.

Don't Feed Old Style Hulls

—500 pounds in every ton is lint, worthless and injurious

One dollar in every four that you spend for loose hulls is wasted—worse than wasted. It pays for lint which is not merely worthless as food but positively dangerous to your live stock.

BUCKEYE LINTLESS HULLS

consist of the hulls only. Patented machines remove the lint. This means that the food is free from indigestible lint; that the nutritive elements are not carried off by lint; that nothing dangerous to the health of farm animals is fed. Every dollar invested in Buckeye Lintless Hulls buys a dollar's worth of safe, nutritious forage.

The only objection to feeding cottonseed hulls heretofore has been the lint. With the lint removed, they are the most economical and satisfactory forage you can use. Therefore, you should not fail to investigate the Buckeye Lintless Hulls.

Feed 50% Buckeye Lintless Hulls and 50% Buco Cotton Seed Feed and you have an easily mixed balanced ration. Buckeye Lintless Hulls and Buco Cotton Seed Feed can be shipped in mixed cars.

Will Formulate Special Rules To Govern Mail Order Purchases

That special rules will be made to cover the emergencies of mail-order purchases is assured by the committee of the Retail Merchants' association, who have been appointed to compile the rules which will control returnable purchases in the Atlanta market.

"Every possible courtesy will be extended to our mail-order patrons," said an Atlanta merchant yesterday when asked how far the out-of-town customer would be protected in the proposed limit of three days on returnable purchases.

"As we have frequently stated, our desire is at no time to curtail the privileges of our customers in or out of town. Any rules we make are mutually protective, and affect not only us, but our customers and our employees. The proposed rules have an economic bearing on business. When they save us they save certain expenses of our business, which the customer would have shared with us.

"I anticipate no difficulty in the enforcement of the new rules, and our out-of-town customers will be furnished with the new rules with their every purchase.

"The length of time governing the return of the out-of-town purchases will be entierly reasonable.

"We believe that when our customers are informed of the new plans in preparation they will, we are sure, co-operate with us—seeing the sanity and justice of them."

JUDGE FITE REFUSES TO ENJOIN COURTHOUSE

Murray Commissioners Upheld. Fees Are Allowed in Smith Estate Case.

Cartersville, Ga., March 28.—(Special.) Two important matters came before Judge A. W. Fite here yesterday. The bill recently filed by E. H. Beck, seeking to enjoin the Murray county commissioners from building a courthouse at Chatsworth according to changed plans recently adopted and to stop its advertisement, was denied and the injunction refused. The only question raised was the right of the commissioners to build the courthouse. Judge Fite followed the ruling of the supreme court in recent Murray county cases.

Neither side offered in the matter of contempt proceedings against, temporary administrators of the Jim Smith estate, and all cases except that against Administrator Mitchell, were continued until May 1, when Judge Speer will have acted on proceedings before him. It appears that Mitchell, fined $300 for contempt, to be paid in ten days or go to jail for 30 days, has not filed any bill of exceptions, and Judge Fite has not yet decided what course will be pursued in this matter.

It was also ascertained that on application, Judge Fite recently allowed $5,000 as a fee to attorneys filing in this case in his court for services to date, and to each of the temporary receivers appointed by him the sum of $1,000 for services to date.

IRA P. BRADLEY PASSES.

Prominent Citizen of Newnan Dies Suddenly.

Newnan, Ga., March 28.—(Special.)—Ira P. Bradley, senior member of the wholesale grocery firm of Bradley, Banks & Co., and one of Newnan's wealthiest citizens, died suddenly at his home here this morning.

Mr. Bradley is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mina Banks Bradley; one son, Thomas Bradley, and two brothers, T. R. Bradley, of Newnan, and J. T. Bradley, of Carrollton.

The funeral will be held at the Baptist church here Wednesday.

Mr. Bradley was stricken with apoplexy this morning while returning from one of his farms, and died in less than an hour. The deceased was born in Butler county, Alabama, in 1858, but had lived in Newnan for the last forty-five years. SHE WAS A MERE SKELETON

This lady Suffered From Severe Pain in Left Side, Was Very Weak, and Confined to Bed for Month at a Time.

Oklahoma City, Okla.—Mrs. Dora Funderburg, of this city, says: "When I was 14 years old I was very poorly, and was told that my case was very bad. . . . The medicine I took did me no good, and I only spent my money for nothing, as I got no relief, but when I commenced taking Cardui, I began improving.

Before taking Cardui I was a mere skeleton, and was very weak and was confined to my bed at times, sometimes as long as a month at a time. I was unable to go to school regularly for two years, on account of my bad health. I had cramping every month, and a severe pain in my left side. . . .

My mother told me of Cardui, and after taking one bottle I was greatly relieved of the pains. I have continued taking it until I feel like a different woman, and I cannot praise Cardui enough. . . . I am now gaining in weight, and all my friends that see me speak of how much better I look in the last month, and I tell them I am taking Cardui. . . . I highly recommend it to all suffering women."

Try taking Cardui for your troubles. Get a bottle today. You won't regret giving it a trial. Your druggist sells it.

HART URGES UNIFORM CHILDREN'S COURT LAW

Noted Child Welfare Worker Guest of the Georgia Children's Home Society.

The need for a receiving home in Atlata in order for the Georgia Children's Home society to do its best possible work, and the need of a uniform children's court law, formed the topics of chief interest at a luncheon given in Kuhn's cafe yesterday afternoon by the directors of the society, at which Dr. Hastings G. Hart was the guest of honor.

Dr. Hart is director of the department of child helping of the Russell Sage foundation, and is spending a portion of the week in Atlanta with three fellow members, deputized to make a survey of church and school work in the south for the National Council of Congregational churches.

Judge W. W. Tindall, judge of the juvenile court of Fulton county, heartily seconded Dr. Hart's arguments, as did others at the luncheon.

Permanent Relief for Chronic Constipation

Knowledge and Practice of Correct Daily Habit the Great Essential.

Constipation is a condition affecting all classes of all people and can be permanently relieved only by acquiring habits of regularity.

The most natural time for the eliminative process is in the morning when both the muscular and nervous system are relaxed by sleep and rest. When relief does not come readily, it is an excellent plan to take a mild laxative at bedtime. Cathartics and purgatives, that by the violence of their quick action shock and disturb the system, should not be employed.

An effective laxative remedy that is very dependable, and which does not gripe or otherwise disturb the organs involved, is found in a combination of simple laxative herbs known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin that can be bought at the drug store for fifty cents a bottle.

MRS. C. C. ALLEN.

Mrs. C. C. Allen, 215 Foam St., New Monterey, Calif., wrote to Dr. Caldwell that she "found Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin just what was needed for constipation and distress of the stomach after eating. It should be in every household."

Get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and keep it in the house to use when occasion arises. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 454 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

ARMY RECRUITING FORCE IS INCREASED

Last week 38 men were recruited into the United States army through the stations recently established in Georgia and Alabama, outside of Atlanta. The number from each were:

Augusta, nine; Macon, six; Columbus, four; Montgomery, six; Birmingham, five; Rome, eight. Two recruiting officers are stationed at each of these points.

Five more men were added to the Atlanta recruiting office from the Columbus, Ohio, barracks, the first of the week, bringing the total number on this duty in this district to 16. Prior to the recent order to rush recruiting "without respect to hours," there were only eleven men on the staff.

OWNERS CO-OPERATE ON UNDERPASS PLAN

Three Property Holders Sign Damage Releases for South Pryor Street Project.

Three property holders along the proposed South Pryor street underpass yesterday signed releases to the city of Atlanta of their right to sue for damages accruing to their properties as the result of the building of the underpass, according to an announcement by officials of the Southeastern Fair association last night.

However, there are a number of property holders who have still refused to sign damage releases to the city, and are blocking the proposition to build the underpass immediately.

An executive meeting of the fair association's council and transportation committee was held at the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce Tuesday morning, at which plans were laid for building the proposed underpass at the Fortress avenue crossing, one block west of the South Pryor street crossing at the Southern railroad, in the event the South Pryor street property holders continue to block the building of the underpass.

No effort will be made to enforce the plans for the Fortress avenue underpass unless the South Pryor street property holders persist in refusing to sign damage releases to the city. This underpass must be completed by fall, when the Southeastern fair is to be held. It is to furnish an artery for all traffic from the center of the city to the fair site at Lakewood.

The city, county, and railroad got together on the proposition to build the underpass, and raised the money for this purpose. It will cost about $75,000.

However, there is no money to pay damages to holders of abutting property for alleged damages, and unless the property holders all sign damage releases the South Pryor street underpass will be killed as an improvement to this street, and moved to Fortress avenue.

Property holders are beginning to realize, it is stated, though, that the erection of the proposed underpass at the South Pryor street crossing will greatly enhance property values instead of doing any damage. It is believed that all the property holders will sign damage releases within a few days.

"Lost Chord" Included In Famous Compositions In "Heart Songs" Volume

Adelaide Anne Procter, the authoress of "The Lost Chord," was the gifted daughter of the famous and accomplished Bryan Waller Procter (Barry Cornwall,) of London, born in 1825, who at early age was a poetess of unusual merit. Her principal compositions were chiefly religious hymns, breathing simplest and completest resignation to the Divine Will, and imploring not gifts and benefactions, but grace to accept and endure whatever her lot might be.

In 1851, Miss Procter joined the Roman Catholic church, and devoted herself to charitable labors, working with such ardor that her health failed and in 1864 it was evident that the end drew near. Charles Dickens, the great novelist, who for years had been a devoted friend of her father and his family, says:

"It was at midnight of the 2d of February, 1864, that she turned a leaf of a little book that she was reading, and shut it up. She quietly asked as the clock was on the stroke of one, 'Do you think I am dying, Mamma?' 'I think you are very, very ill, my dear.' 'Send for sister; lift me up.' Her sister entering as they raised her, Adelaide said, 'It has come at last,' and with a bright and happy smile, looked upward, and departed."

The "Lost Chord," with music by Sir Arthur Sullivan, is to be found on page 294, of "Heart Songs," now being distributed to its readers by The Constitution. The coupon in today's issue explains terms. Thousands have availed themselves of the offer, and it is going fast.

COMMISSION ENDS WORK IN ATLANTA TODAY

The deputation from the commission on missions to study Congregational work in the south, and which has been in this city since last Saturday in the prosecution of its task, will finish its work here this afternoon, and leave at 5:30 for Macon. The sessions of the commission have been held with leading local Congregationalists.

Dr. H. C. Herring, of Boston, chairman of the commission, spoke in the afternoon to women of the First Congregational church, colored, gathered in the institutional department of the church to organize the five hundred women of the church for aggressive missionary work. The speaker told of the work being done by the 4,000 Congregational missionaries in various parts of the world.

The commission will return to Atlanta at the end of its investigations the latter part of April and attend an educational mass meeting at the First Congregational church Tuesday evening, April 25, when workers from colored Congregational schools from all over the south will be present for a two-days' session under the leadership of Dr. H. Paul Douglass, of New York, secretary of the American Missionary association.

FRANK MANGUM BUYS SWAINSBORO PAPER

Swainsboro, Ga., March 28.—(Special.) The Swainsboro Forest-Blade, the oldest newspaper in this county, will change management on the 15th of April, the interest of C. D. Rountree, co-editor of the paper, having been purchased by Frank Mangum, of Macon, who was formerly associated with The Macon News. Mr. Mangum has been in the city recently, and stated his intentions of enlarging the paper, and continuing it on its usual plan of efficiency.

Mr. Rountree has purchased The Wrightsville Headlight from Mrs. Will Burns, of Tennille, who is the only heir at law of the late editor, John M. Burns, who, for thirty-five years, owned and operated The Headlight. Until April 15 Mr. Rountree will divide his time between the two papers, at which time Mr. Mangum will assume charge of The Forest-Blade. Mr. Rountree has been in the newspaper business seven years, beginning at Graymont, where he operated The Graymont Hustler three years. He was also editor of The Richland Georgian for one year, and purchased half interest in The Forest-Blade in 1912.

Later in the summer Mr. Rountree will move his family to Wrightsville, but intends to retain a connection with his home county and people and plans to have an enlarged newspaper business in this section at a future date. He has numbers of friends in the county who will regret to see him sever his relations with his people.

'Union' and 'Balance' Make Stable Tires

United States Tires, in more than name only, carry out the principle of 'union' and 'balance' which makes a great stable nation out of the forty-eight individual States of the Union.

United States Tires have that complete 'union' between rubber and fabric which absolutely prevents tread separation and disintegration under the tread.

They have that complete 'balance' which gives equal wear in both the tread and the carcass—neither is weaker nor stronger than the other.

Every part of each tire helps every other part to last longer—and that is the 'union' and 'balance' which give the whole tire longer life—which give the low-mileage cost for which United States Tires are famous.

There are five United States 'Balanced' Tires—a tire to meet every motoring need of price and use. Ask your dealer to show you.

Crackers Break Camp Sunday

Edited by DICK JEMISON

Frank Back in Camp Again; Crackers to Leave Sunday; Marcan Will Report Soon

By Dick Jemison.

Valdes Hotel, Valdosta, Ga., March 28.—(Special.)—Manager Frank returned to Valdosta this morning after a visit to Atlanta, where he looked over the ball park, as it is being changed for the opening of the season.

The reason for his delay in coming back to the training camp was explained by the manager this morning. His train en route to Atlanta Sunday morning ran in behind a wreck and it was after noon before he got to Atlanta. He could not complete the business he was to transact and leave Atlanta again for Valdosta that night.

Manager Frank received a letter this morning from President Baugh, of the Southern league, in which the league's executive advised that he would be present at the Atlanta opening when the Crackers play New Orleans, April 19.

Manager Frank also received a letter from Mrs. Marcan this morning advising that her husband would report to the Crackers on the first of the month. Mrs. Marcan wrote that their home had been a hospital all winter and that illness took the rounds of the entire family.

The Crackers will hardly leave here before Sunday morning. They had hopes of arranging some games prior to those in Macon next week, but Manager Frank was unsuccessful in doing so.

Good Work at Keystone.

From the way they handle the ball, and taking into consideration the fact that Gagnier has worked out but two days, it looks like McMillan and Gagnier will figure in starting quite a few double plays. They seem to understand each other's style of play and a peg to the bag is all that is necessary to bring the other skooting to take the throw. That's something also that the Crackers have been woefully weak on for several seasons, good pivot work at the keystone.

Valdes Hotel, Valdosta, Ga., March 28.—(Special.)—Manager Frank's absence from the training camp Monday did not affect the work of the players. Maybe they did a little too much work. But no one is complaining of a sore arm today, and sorer than usual, so the work probably did them good.

The boys like Valdosta and the training camp, but they're getting restless for real combats now and counting the days until Sunday, when we'll pull away from here for Macon to battle the Macon Sally Leaguers three times. These games are expected to put the gang right in shape.

This Gagnier person has plenty of pep. He's talking all the time on and off the field and with McMillan as a running mate at the keynote the Cracker infield is going to have considerably more life in it than it has had in several seasons past.

The Norcross News Herald, of last Thursday afternoon, pulled the following: "The Atlanta fans must be getting pretty hungry, as Dick Jemison is only giving them 'A Cracker a Day.'"

In the same issue, they also pulled this one, "A fellow named Munch is to play baseball with the Atlanta team. Rather a bad sort of a fellow to put to bed with a pile of Crackers."

Paragrapher Spencer, of the Macon Telegraph, brought a laugh from the gang, when in Monday's paragraphs he had this, "A Chattanooga fortune teller says Villa has crossed the border and is now in Atlanta. If that's so why doesn't Atlanta mobilize Fuzzy Woodruff and get him?"

Praise for Gutierrez.

I am in receipt of a letter from Joe Massageur, Jr., sporting editor of the La Nacion at Havana, in which he speaks highly of Jose Gutierrez, the young Cuban now with us. He gives a list of the sixteen Cubans who are now starring with professional ball teams in the states.

The gang had a splendid time Sunday afternoon. There was a negro baptising here Sunday and the gang attended. Some of their descriptions of what happened were immense.

Jake Munch and Eddie Lennox are nursing sore arms and the injured whips are responding, but slowly, to treatment, especially with the changeable weather of the last few days. It will probably be next week before their wings begin to come around.

Scott Perry rode a bicycle for the first time this afternoon. The big fellow pulled a Charley Chaplin with two headers that he took over the handle bars. As a bicycle rider, Scotty is a fine pitcher.

DIXIE BALL LEAGUE IS BEING ORGANIZED

Bainbridge, Ga., March 28—(Special.) President Dick Jemison, of the F. L. A. G. league, and Directors T. A. Ward, of Dothan; Newton Etheridge, of Waycross, and Nelse Holcombe, of Valdosta, met here with the fans of Bainbridge today in the interest of organizing a new class D organization with Bainbridge as one of the members of the new association.

Dothan, Valdosta, Waycross and Bainbridge are four of the cities proposed for the new organization, which will probably be named the Dixie league, and plans to play a sixty-game schedule starting the first week in May and running until the middle of July.

A meeting was called by Secretary Quimby Melton, of the board of trade this afternoon, and, after outlining the project, the meeting adjourned to meet again tonight. At the meeting tonight about fifty of the business men of Bainbridge met and discussed the situation and the proposal met with better success than at any time since Bainbridge has been considered as a possible entrant.

A committee appointed solicited those present and a nice subscription list was pledged. Following this a committee was named to make a canvass of the city to raise the money deemed necessary to support professional baseball for the season.

From the interest shown, and the subscriptions raised, it seems almost an assured fact that Bainbridge will enter the league.

It was also proposed that Quincy, Fla., Bainbridge's most deadly rival in a baseball way, be interviewed regarding taking a place in the league and it is believed that this city will also enter. This will leave only one more town to be secured, with Eufaula, Ala., Dawson, Tifton and Moultrie considered for the vacancy.

It is believed that by the end of the present week, the Dixie league will be formally organized with three former members of the Georgia State or Flag league, and three new cities as members, officers and directors elected and permanent organization perfected.

HEADACHES

Thousands of men and women suffer from headaches every day, other thousands have headaches every week or every month, and still others have headaches occasionally, but not at regular intervals. The best Doctor is often unable to find the cause of many of these headaches, and in most other cases, knowing the cause, he does not know what will remove it, so as to give a permanent cure. All he can do is to prescribe the usual pain relievers, which give temporary relief, but the headache returns as usual, and treatment is again necessary. If you suffer from headaches, no matter what their nature, take anti-kamnia tablets, and the results will be satisfactory in the highest degree. You can obtain them at all druggists in any quantity, 10c worth, 25c worth or more. Ask for A-K Tablets.

SICK-HEADACHES

Sick-headache, the most miserable of all sicknesses, loses its terrors when A-K Tablets are taken. When you feel an attack coming on take two tablets, and in many cases, the attack will be warded off. During an attack take one A-K Tablet every two hours. The rest and comfort which follow, can be obtained in no other way.

Genuine A-K Tablets bear the K monogram. At all druggists.

GEORGIA IS VICTORIOUS IN SEASON'S FIRST GAME

Virginia Wesleyan Defeated 2 to 0—Westbrook Pitches Good Ball.

Athens, Ga., March 28.—(Special.)—Joe Bean's Georgians took the first baseball game of the season today here from West Virginia Wesleyan, two to nothing, Westbrook, a Madison county boy, pitching the nine innings and proving his right to a place in college ball, yielding only three hits, none till the fifth inning; walking none and striking out eleven men. Three were fanned by Thurmond, of the visitors, who walked two men and gave up five hits when Georgia needed them.

Georgia's lone error was made by Davis, who let a grounder through his feet, but who is the fastest man on the team, and very promising. Rawson caught a steady, magnificent game throughout.

There was not a change in the line-up of either team. West Virginia's field was most notable, a sensational left-handed catch of a foul by Morrison and a long run and safe catch by Shumaker being spectacular. The day was raw and the game, therefore, unexpectedly good showing, the Georgia team up better than had been hoped with the short practice time it has had.

LOOKING THEM OVER

WITH BILLY EVANS

SOME FEATS AND FEATURES OF THE NATIONAL PASTIME.

DID YOU KNOW—

That Dolly Gray, when with Washington, pitched a one-hit game during the season of 1909 against the Chicago White Sox, yet was beaten by the big score of 6 to 4? It hardly seems possible that a pitcher could keep the hits to a single safe wallop in the big league and still be forced to suffer a 6 to 4 defeat, yet that is just what happened to Gray. The cause of the defeat under such circumstances was the usual trouble, lack of control. When Gray was able to get the ball over the plate the Sox were unable to do much with his delivery, but Gray had more than his share of trouble locating the plate in that game. He gave eleven bases on balls and, mixed up with these passes were some boots as well as flies to the outfield, Chicago being able to total a half dozen runs. The only hit made was of the flukiest sort, generous scorers making it a hit instead of an error. Major league records reveal few such games as the one twirled by Gray against the Sox.

That in the first inning of the game between the New York Giants and St. Louis Cardinals on May 13, 1911, the Giants got away to a commanding lead of thirteen runs? That opening session was the fattest run producing first inning in recent years. Eleven years previous the Boston Nationals scored thirteen runs in a game with St. Louis. Every Giant, with the exception of Mathewson, batted twice in that remarkable opening session. Eight clean hits were largely responsible for most of the runs. Included in those eight hits were a double, a triple and a home run. Fred Merkle, who has figured in most of the unusual happenings of the Giants, was the leading swatter, with a double and a home run, being responsible for six of the thirteen runs scored. Harry Sallee, still with the Cardinals; Bob Harmon, since traded to Pittsburg, and Grover Lowdermilk, who will get another chance in fast company this year with the St. Louis Browns, were the pitchers in the swatfest.

That the season of 1906 was a very unusual one in major league circles? That in 1906 the Chicago Cubs won 116 games, a major league record? That for the first and only time in major league circles a team that finished last in batting, won a pennant, the Chicago White Sox turning the trick? That the longest major league game was staged, Philadelphia beating Boston 4 to 1 in a twenty-four-inning game? That the Chicago White Sox established an American league record for games won with nineteen straight, falling one short of tying the major league record of twenty made by Providence of the National league, in 1884? That the Boston Americans, under Jimmy Collins, suffered twenty straight defeats early in the season? That later, the Boston Nationals almost equaled the performance by dropping nineteen straight? That Ed Walsh pitched in seven of the nineteen straight wins of the White Sox between August 2 and August 23? That he pitched four shutouts and allowed only six runs in the seven victories?

New York, March 28.—The cotton market was quiet again today and fluctuations were again narrow and irregular as indicated by the course of July contracts, which declined from 12.14 to 12.07 during the morning, then rallied to 12.11, broke to 12.04 and closed at 12.07. The general list closed steady net 1 point higher to 2 points lower.

Liverpool was relatively steady and the market here opened firm at an advance of 5 to 7 points with May contracts selling at 12.02 and October at 12.26 on or immediately following the call. There seemed to be a little southern selling of May above the 12c level and houses with Liverpool connections sold new crop months, although they were moderate buyers of July. This checked the advance and prices eased off during the middle of the morning under scattered realizing, or some local selling inspired by the bearish view of export probabilities and expectations of a less active spot demand after the first of the month.

Offerings were very well absorbed around 11.95 for May and 12.16 for October, or within a point of last night's closing figures, however, and the market steadied up during the afternoon on the continued dry weather in the southwest, reports of steady southern spot markets and rather a more optimistic view of international politics. Offerings seemed to increase slightly around 11.99 for May and to 12.20 for October and prices eased off again in the late trading, although there was no apparent change in the general character of the news. The close was two or three points up from the lowest on the more active positions with near months relatively steady. Trading was quiet during the entire day and prices seemed sensitive to comparatively small orders. Private wires from New Orleans reporting a good spot business helped the afternoon rally and the western belt forecast was for fair and warmer weather.

Spot cotton steady; middling uplands 12.10; soles, 1,300.

New Orleans Practically Unchanged.

New Orleans, March 28.—While bullish sentiment in the cotton market today was strengthened by continuation of the drought in Texas and by evidences of a better demand for spots, operations on the long side were restricted by the political news. The Sussex incident, after the early trading, was the subject of much bearish comment and growing uneasiness was felt over the Mexican situation. The market was practically in a deadlock and closed 2 points down to 1 point up, compared to yesterday's last prices.

Around the opening good cables, light offerings and a moderate demand gave the market steadiness and prices worked upward for a rise of 5 to 8 points. Following this rise was a series of nervous fluctuations within narrow limits, which finally carried the most active options, late in the session 1 to 2 points under yesterday's close. The larger spot sales here and private reports of heavier trading at a number of points in the belt served to discourage bearish effort and at no time was there any display of marked easiness. In many respects the market was a waiting affair throughout.

Sugar.

New York, March 28.—The sugar market was firm and active in all departments with raws again selling up to the five-cent level on a renewed demand from refiners, prompted by the continued demand for granulated, principally from exporters. The day's transactions aggregated about 142,000 bags of Cubas which included a limited quantity for prompt shipment at five cents cost and freight, while the remainder was for prompt and for shipment during April and May at prices ranging from 4⅞ to 5c cost and freight, the latter price being the last paid and the [illegible] quotation now. At five cents holders seemed more disposed to sell and at the close there were still offerings at that level.

The market closed firm at 6.02 for centrifugal, 5.25 for molasses, and 5 cents for Cubas cost and freight.

In refined prices were 10 to 20 points higher following the firmness of raws with fine granulated now quoted on the basis of 7.00 to 10.00. There was a good domestic demand reported early, but the advance checked business. Export inquiries were again in the market and while there was said to have been a good business done late yesterday and early today, refiners seemed to be fairly well supplied with orders and bids of six cents for April shipment were rejected owing to the inability of refiners to make delivery.

The market for futures was quite active and on scattered buying by commission houses and trade interests as a result of the strength in raws and the renewed export demand prices advanced, closing 11 to 18 points net higher for the more active positions, or within a point or two of the highest point of the day.

GRAFF ARRESTED ON WARANT OF HUSBAND

Mrs. Mattie Haynes and K. S. Graff were arrested late last night at 11 Cone street by city police, upon a warrant sworn out by Mrs. Haynes' husband, C. G. Haynes, charging that young Graff had eloped with Mrs. Haynes. Mrs. Haynes is said to be 28 years old. Graff is said to be 23.

None of the parties would make any statement last night.

A single nest of the Australian bush turkey has been found to weigh five tons.

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON SITUATION

New York, March 28.—(Special.)—Up to the end of the first week of last November the trade saw mill takings of record breaking proportions. Since that date they have been remarkably small, being 600,000 smaller than last year and from one million to one million and a half bales smaller than in 1911, 1912 or 1913 for the same period. In fact, in none of the recent years have they been so small except in the two small crop years 1909 and 1910. Beginning at about the same date, the movement into sight slackened and during the 4½ months since that date the amount brought into sight is over 3,300,000 smaller than during the same time last year and from one million to two and a quarter million bales less than in other years excepting the two short crop years mentioned.

It is this retarded movement that has confused those who indulge in comparative figures, but it remains a demonstratable fact that if the price is high enough to bring all the available cotton out, the movement for the balance of this season must be the largest ever known and of course if they continue to hold it and do not sell it, the competition in selling will be with the next crop and not with this one. It looks like an absolute famine in cotton exists in Germany and Austria, Poland and Russia and almost a famine in France, Spain and Italy, but the chances of relieving this famine appears remote, for ocean freight is hard to secure even for Great Britain.

If we could give these continental countries cotton, the problem would be solved, but if no solution of the freight and exchange problem is reached, the holding must be much more extensive than it now is to prevent substantially lower levels. American mills might take two million bales after this week to finish their season's requirements and leave an ample stock, but this would be a maximum taking for the next four months. Spot cottons are offered at 12 cents in the south. An advance of 15 points in our market would justify 12 cents in the south and this it seems to us is the reason present prices seem to stop the market.

RENSKORF, LYON & CO.

New York, March 28.—(Special.)—The local market continues dull and featureless with very little fluctuations in prices. While liquidation and selling for account of Liverpool interests is going on here, the buying power is equal to the occasion and is derived from the generally favorable tenor of spot advices. The demand in this quarter is smaller than several weeks ago, but still large enough to maintain a high basis. There is at present no incentive for speculation in the new crop, and therefore the normal liquidation of old crop commitments furnishes the business from day to day.

JAY, BOND & CO.

New York, March 28.—(Special.)—Strong cables, insufficient precipitation in drouthy sections of the belt and good spot advices resulted in an initial upturn in cotton values of about 5 to 7 points. This gain was soon lost, however, as the ring sold. The feeling is still unsettled as a result of the mixed state of outside conditions. The talk is what the market may do under certain conditions, but commitment to back up arguments are scarce. Until the political atmosphere becomes clearer conditions surrounding the new crop will try to make the trend, but even these will be swept before any important political events that may develop.

SHEARSON, HAMMIL & CO.

New York, March 28.—(Special.)—A dull market prevailed today which refused to follow the advance in Liverpool, as did the market of Saturday last refused to follow the declines abroad.

Prices were finally about 2 points lower with the trade disappointed at the absence of any distinctive trend in values; as a market which neither advances nor declines except within a narrow limit is one in which opinions as to the future course must be almost equally balanced, thus the markets await new factors.

At the moment there is a spot demand at the ports to fill engagements for March shipment apparently in place of delayed cotton from the interior, but without changing the uncertainty of present opinions.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, March 28.—Cotton seed oil was lower, except for October, under scattered liquidation and poor outside demand. Towards the close a steadier feeling prevailed, due to the late strength in hog products. Final prices were 4 points higher for October and 3 to 6 points net lower for other positions. Sales 13,100 barrels.

SECURITY OUTLOOK HAS IMPROVEMENT

After Interval of Uncertainty Prices Were Generally Elevated, Specialties Leading With Rises of 1 to 4 Points.

New York, March 28.—External affairs as represented by the threatened crisis with the Teutonic powers and the complex conditions in Mexico appeared to exert very slight influence today, so far at least as they bore upon the more speculative aspects of the market. Prices were elevated quite generally after an early interval of uncertainty, but specialties were the only stocks to register more than nominal headway.

Trading was fairly active during the forenoon, tapered off materially at mid-day and became increasingly apathetic in the final hour. Advances were accomplished mainly at the expense of the short interest, which recently acquired formidable proportions.

Such favorites as Crucible Steel, American Locomotive, the motors and semi-active industrials and equipments, rose 1 to 4 points, but metals and oils were relatively backward, except for Butte and Superior and American Zinc. Coppers were variable, the failure of the Anaconda directors to increase the dividend acting as a restraint. Sugars were again distinguished for their meteoric flights, with new high records for Cuban-American which rose 16 points to 245, and South Porto Rico on its gain of 7, to 197.

Rails and other investment stocks were negligible features, but fairly firm, additional excellent February statements contributing to that tone. Western Maryland issues proved the only noteworthy exception, both the common and preferred reacting a point or more.

Bethlehem Steel added another 25 points to its steady reversal of recent days, falling to 470, and Mercantile Marines were consistently heavy, in marked contrast to the strength of United Fruit. United States Steel fluctuated within fractional limits and was eclipsed in activity by a half dozen stocks of lesser prominence. Quotations were a point or more under their best at the irregular close.

Regardless of the apprehension exprssed by contractors at the steady rise in prices of fabricated steel and iron, further advances in finished materials were reported today from the Pittsburg district. More orders for rails and other equipment were placed.

Dealings in bonds were without especial feature, aside from advances in St. Louis and San Francisco issues. Total sales of bonds, par value, were $3,260,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

ALL CHICAGO LIST ON VIGOROUS RISE

Wheat Soars Because of American-Wide Crop Damage—Corn and Provisions Advance in Sympthy.

Chicago, March 28.—Crop damage reports appeared to be chiefly responsible for a decided advance today in the price of wheat. The market closed strong, 2 to 3¼@3⅜ net higher, with May at $1.13¼@1.13¾. Other leading staples, too, all showed gains—corn ½ to ⅝c; oats ¼ to ½@⅝c, and provisions 5 to 17c.

Wheat showed strength right from the start, and did not at any time suffer a reaction that was of much importance. Advices of fields being plowed up and of extensive winter killing became more and more general from the soft wheat states, and were supplemented by assertions that the seeded acreage of spring wheat both sides of the Canadian line would be seriously reduced. According to one authority the yield in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan and the Judith basin, Montana, seemed likely to amount to only half an average crop. Ample rains, it was said, had apparently failed to remedy the damage, especially in Illinois.

Evidence developed that foreigners were taking a hand here in the buying of future deliveries of wheat. In this connection, bulls pointed out that an advance which had taken place at Liverpool was ascribed to chances that submarine activity would interfere with supplies. Bullish significance was also attached in some quarters to an upturn in war risk rates on the Atlantic.

Corn rallied in sympathy with wheat. During most of the day, however, the corn market was under selling pressure from longs who desired to realize on holdings, and who took advantage of early firmness that resulted from weather adverse to the movement of the crop.

Demand from elevator companies helped to strengthen oats. Offerings were light.

Lower prices on hogs had only a trainsient effect on provisions. In the later dealings, the setbacks were more than overcome by the bulges in the value of grain.

Coffee.

New York, March 28.—The market for coffee futures was lower today under realizing and some trade selling of the later deliveries. There appeared to be no particular change in the news from Brazil or in the cost and freight situation, but the talk was that technical conditions here had weakened during the progress of this advance, and after opening at a decline of 6 to 8 points, active months sold off another point or two during the day. Near positions were relatively easy under Wall street liquidation with March selling at 8.02, or 14 points net lower, while December eased off to 8.45 or 5 points under last night's final figures. The close was 5 to 14 points net lower. Sales 32,250.

Spot coffee quiet; Rio 7s 9⅜; Santos 4s 10⅛c. Cost and freight offers were reported about unchanged so far as Santos grades were concerned and about 5 points higher on Rio.

The official cables reported Santos unchanged with Rio 50 reis higher and Rio exchange 1-32 higher. Brazilian ports receipts 23,000; Jundiahy 9,000.

What He Said.

"So Graham is after everything he can get. Did you say he was getting well off?"

"Not exactly. I merely remarked that he was getting off easily."

A SPOONFUL OF SALTS RELIEVES ACHING KIDNEYS

We eat too much meat, which clogs Kidneys, says noted authority.

If back hurts or Bladder bothers, stop all meat for a while.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

HITLESS OUTFIELDERS RELEASED BY LOOKOUTS

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 28.—(Special.)—Manager Elberfeld has released two outfielders in camp.. The Lookouts have shown decided weakness at bat and the manager is out after some hitters. Neither of the released players has hit a lick in the practice games for the present. Catcher Powers is trying out in right field.

SAVE YOUR HAIR AND BEAUTIFY IT WITH "DANDERINE"

Spend 25 cents! Dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Try this! Hair gets beautiful, wavy and thick in few moments.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

ATLANTA'S STRIDES

From Day to Day

Three property holders along the proposed South Pryor street underpass at the Southern railroad crossing yesterday signed releases to the city of their right to sue for possible accruing damages to their properties as the result of the building of the underpass, and the general belief is now that all the property holders will follow their example in a few days, thereby making it possible for the county, city and railroad to go ahead with the construction of the concrete underpass that is to be built at this crossing before the Southeastern fair is held at Lakewood next fall.

This news will be of general interest to contractors who were planning to offer bids for this job.

The change in the attitude of the property holders has caused the officials behind the move to abandon, for the present at least, the proposition of building the underpass one block west of South Pryor street at the Fortress avenue crossing.

$60,000 Peachtree Sale.

Smith, Ewing & Rankin Tuesday sold for Mrs. S. C. James to Senator John A. Carlton, of Moultrie, Ga., the James place on Peachtree street, between Porter place and the junction of Peachtree and West Peachtree streets. The terms were a $60,000 cash consideration.

Whitten Makes Cash Purchases.

Believing that the golden rule is to "practice one's own preachings," J. H. Whitten, the popular rent manager of M. L. Thrower's real estate and renting agency, jumped into the buying market Tuesday, and invested in a parcel on West Fair street.

"Now is the time to buy Atlanta real estate," has been the slogan in the local real estate market for some months.

Mr. Whitten was operating under this rule Tuesday.

He bought from Mrs. L. H. Kelley Nos. 322 and 324 West Fair street, consisting of a double six-room house on a lot 40 by 100 feet. He gave a cash payment of $1,500 for this property.

Year's Deficit Greatly Reduced.

Including applications on file at the city building inspector's office the great volume of new building for March has reduced the deficit of the first two months of this year from $349,563 at the end of February, to only $114,407 at the present time.

Tuesday's permits totaled $38,750, including a permit to Mrs. Addie L. Seay to build a two-story, brick apartment house, containing six spaces, at No. 150 Peeples street, West End, costing $20,000. Application for this permit was made earlier in the month, and mention of it has already been made.

H. W. Nicholes, for himself and for G. F. Willis, of the Tanlac company, Tuesday filed application for the erection of two apartment houses at No. 650 Ponce de Leon avenue, between Barnett and Frederica streets, costing $100,000. The two apartment houses will contain 24 six-room spaces. The buildings will be two-story structures of brick construction.

Permits actually issued during March now have an aggregate value of $402,513, which does not include the $100,000 applications, which the building inspector will not issue before April 1.

Other permits issued Tuesday were as follows:

To install heating plant to H. W. Nicholes, at 650 Ponce de Leon avenue, $4,200.

To build fire walls to Atlanta Compress company, Edgewood avenue, $2,000.

To make additions to Woodward Avenue Baptist church, $1,515.

To install heating plant to Lucien L. Knight, at Nos. 828-32 Highland avenue, $4,200.

To build two-story, eight-room frame house at 292 Lucile avenue to M. L. Rauschenberg, $4,000.

Kiser Agency Sale.

M. C. Kiser has sold for J. F. Askew to the Mackle Construction company, a parcel at No. 26 East North avenue, formerly a branch exchange of the Southern Bell Telephone company.

This property consists of a brick building on a lot 28x128.

As part payment Mr. Askew gave a small parcel on Crew street.

The consideration was not disclosed.

Major City League Holds First Meeting Of the Year Tonight

The major city league of amateur baseball teams will hold its initial meeting tonight in the Julian Prade sporting goods store. All of the teams holding franchises in this organization are urged to be on hand, as important business will be transacted.

This will be the first amateur league meeting to be held in the city this season, but it is expected that all of the leagues in force last season will call meetings shortly. Just where the amateurs will meet this season has not yet been determined, but it is thought that they will all hold their meetings at Prade's.

Horine's Great Feat.

It will be four years today since George Horine set up a new record for the high jump. Horine, who recently announced his retirement from athletics to settle down on his California ranch, was then a Stanford student. It was at the dual meet with the University of Southern California that he broke the record made in 1895 by Mike Sweeney of 6 feet 5⅝ inches. After all his rivals had dropped out, Horine cleared the bar at 6 feet 2 inches. Trainer Moulton then advised him to have a try at 6 feet 6 inches, and Horine sailed over with apparent ease. His new record was 6 feet 8¼ inches, and a little later he made it 6 feet 7 inches at the Coast tryouts for the Olympic games.

ROTARIANS DINE ALLEN D. ALBERT

National Rotary Head Tonight Will Tell Atlanta What Ails Her and What's Good For It.

At a dinner attended by 175 persons—Rotarians and their wives and daughters—given at the Capital City club by the local Rotary organization last night, in honor of the national head of Rotary and its most dominant figure, Allen D. Albert, of Minneapolis, Mr. Albert delivered the main address.

"Rotary," Mr. Albert defined, "is an association of men who are eager to grow in capability for service." And he emphasized the fact that by "service" he had not in mind political, business or professional efficiency alone, but service in the broadest sense—to their fellow men, their community and the state.

He traced briefly the history of Rotary, and cited numerous incidents in which the influences of Rotary have been manifested and applied. He summed up, in his closing sentence, all he says that Rotary is, like this:

"Rotary is only a kind father for those less fortunate."

Mr. Albert was introduced by Preston Arkwright, who had been presented to the diners by Lee Jordan, president of the local Rotary club.

Following the dinner many of those in attendance, by invitation of the Capital City club, remained to participate in the ball that club was giving.

The greater part of yesterday Mr. Albert spent in consultation with local leaders in school, commercial and financial affairs, discussing his "diagnosis" of Atlanta, and seeking light to enable him to "prescribe" for the city's ills, as he has discovered them, at an address on "Forces that Make Cities," at 8:15 o'clock tonight in the Atlanta theater.

There will be no admission fee in connection with the address tonight, which is to be given under the auspices of the Atlanta Rotary club, and every citizen of Atlanta is invited to attend.

T. C. Powers, Nicholls.

Douglas, Ga., March 28.—(Special.)—T. C. Powers, of Powers & Weeks, merchants, died yesterday morning at Nicholls. The funeral and burial were held at Oglethorpe this afternoon.

W. W. Wells.

W. W. Wells, aged 88 years, died Monday night at the home of his son, J. P. Wells, in East Point. He is survived by his wife and son, J. T. Wells.

DANIELS WILL LEAVE NATIONAL COMMITTEE

Raleigh, N. C., March 28.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels, here today in attendance at the funeral of Thomas J. Pence, secretary of the democratic national committee, announced that he would not be a candidate for re-election as a member of the democratic national committee, of which he has been the North Carolina member since 1896. He said it was his conviction that men who hold public positions should not be active in the management of campaigns. Since his appointment as secretary of the navy his proxy had been held by Mr. Pence.

ROADS AND EMPLOYEES TO CLASH OVER WAGES

Demands of Brotherhoods to Be Presented Thursday—Roads Say They Can't Pay.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, March 28.—(Special.)—Declaring that their demands are reasonable and that they will not arbitrate, representatives of railway employees organizations will present on Thursday to the headquarters of railways in every part of the country their demands for an eight-hour day and overtime pay amounting to fifty per cent in excess of regular pay.

Presentation of the demands to railroads in the southeastern territory will be made to the Southern at headquarters here, the Seaboard Air Line at Norfolk, the Atlantic Coast Line at Wilmington, the Louisville and Nashville at Louisville, the Central of Georgia at Savannah, the Florida East Coast Line at St. Augustine, and the Mobile and Ohio at Mobile.

The railroads insist that they cannot possibly meet the demands out of the present revenues they collect from the public. The alternative seems to be either for the railroads to yield, or the men to precipitate a strike that will tie up every wheel on every iron rail in the United States.

One of the most stupendous struggles in the history of American industries would seem to be threatened. Representatives of the various brotherhoods—the engineers, conductors, firemen and trainmen—are pledged not to add to or subtract from the demands lodged with them to present. The officials of the railway lines say the rates which give them their earnings are regulated by public-service commissions, and that the earnings under these rates limit their expenditures.

Employees now receiving the highest pay would mainly benefit from these demands, the railroads add. Eighteen per cent of these wage-earners receive twenty-eight per cent of the total wages paid, it is asserted.

The railroads are calling attention to the following statement made by the interstate commerce commission prior to the arbitration of 1914, which was practically forced on the railroads by President Wilson:

"Certainly organized railroad labor is probably as well paid and some say better paid than labor of other kinds upon the average. Railroad employees will hardly expect to receive wages which exceed those paid to other forms of labor for the same grade of service and this commission certainly could not permit a change of rates for the purpose of enabling railroads to pay their laborers extravagant compensation as measured by the general average compensation paid labor in this country as a whole."

DOUGLAS AGGIES WIN OVER NORMAN INSTITUTE

Norman Park, Ga., March 28.—(Special.)—The Douglas Aggies made it two straight today, defeating Norman institute to the tune of 8 to 7 in a hotly contested game. Lott opened for the Aggies, but due to cold weather could not get his hops working and Norman pounded him for five runs in the first and two in the second. Stewart, who worked yesterday, relieved him and had the Baptists at his mercy, giving up only one hit for the remainder of the game.

Dobson was effective at times, but the Aggies hit him hard. Fielding was ragged on both sides. This is the third game played by the Aggies, and they are going to make all prep clubs hustle. They tied the Atlanta Crackers in Valdosta last Thursday.

AT THE THEATERS

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

Probably the oddest and most delightful little musical fantasy that has ever been presented in Atlanta is "The Clock Shop," in which Sam Chip and Mary Marble lead the Forsyth Keith vaudeville bill this week. Added to the oddity and melody and entrancing personalities of Sam Chip and Mary Marble are some of the most beautiful settings imaginable. The sketch is in three scenes, each more beautiful and novel than the preceding.

Manager George H. Hickman has some of the best laugh-producers in variety in the six other acts on the bill. The program is a merry one from the Bray animated cartoon on through. Harry Holman in a novel sketch called "Adam Killjoy" is one of the particularly successful fun-makers. Mary Melville is another, while Gus Van and Joe Schenck and Dan Sherman and Mabel DeForest are riots.

"Help Wanted."

(At the Lyric.)

Dainty little Emma Bunting, in one of the most pretentious productions of her career, is the treat offered Atlanta theatergoers at the Lyric theater this week. "Help Wanted" is a drama of today, a gripping narrative of an innocent working girl's encounters with the hardened business world and of her clashes with the selfish, unscrupulous men who prey upon the helpless little beauties who are forced by circumstances into a life of labor. She is supported by a commendable cast, including George Whitaker in the most masterful character portrayal in which Atlanta has ever seen him; Rollin T. Holden, Eva Sargent, Edward Menlove, Margaret Lee, Margaret Ryan and Henry Sherwood. Next week the Bunting players will present the immortal "Prince Chap."

Pauline Frederick Play.

(At the Georgian.)

Pauline Frederick, whose beauty and powerful emotional ability have made her one of the foremost dramatic artists on the American screen, is the star of the Famous Players-Paramount picture, "Audrey," an adaptation of the celebrated novel by Mary Johnston, put into picture form by Harriet Ford and E. F. Boddington, which is the offering at the Georgian theater today for the last time.

It has drawn tremendous crowds the first two days of the week. It is one of the season's most masterful photo-dramas and is being presented at the Georgian with special adapted music by the Whitney Hubner orchestra augmented by the Fox symphonic orchestra.

"The Social Pirates."

George Bronson Howard promises a daring expose of the keen-witted and unscrupulous schemers who prey on society in "The Social Pirates," the big new Kalem series which is announced as a weekly feature at the Grand theater starting Thursday. The famous novelist and playwright, author of "Good Man," "Snobs" and "An Enemy to Society," has drawn from his adventurous career as a soldier of fortune in all corners of the globe to provide material for the film expose.

The clever girls, Mona and Mary, are the mediums through which the author uncovers the methods of the vultures of the social world. Marin Sais and Ollie Kirkby are the prominent screen stars chosen for these parts. The girls, who become known as "The Social Pirates," prey upon the tricksters, using fire to fight fire, and incidentally righting the wrongs of the victims of the schemers. Each episode of the series tells of an exciting adventure encountered by the girls in their pursuit of their chosen prey.

"Her Great Price."

"Her Great Price" is a story of Bohemia. Miss Taliaferro takes the role of a young authoress, the pet of four young men who are her best pals in her struggle to make good in the world of letters.

"True Nobility."

(At the Grand.)

Pretty Helene Rosson is star of "True Nobility," the five-part Mutual Masterpicture de Luxe, the offering at the Grand opera house today and tomorrow. The film depicts the interesting experiences of a young westerner who is suddenly thrust into the whirl of high society and finds himself the rival of a nobleman for the hand of a beautiful young heiress. E. Forrest Taylor is the westerner, and a fine one he proves. The program is augmented by the newest of the Mutual comedies. Enjoyment is added to the program through the exceptionally fine music of the Grand's new orchestra.

"Mary's Lamb."

(At the Strand.)

Richard Carle in "Mary's Lamb" will be the offering at the Strand theater for today. This is Mr. Carle's greatest stage success and from newspaper comments upon the screen adaptation the latter is the equal in some ways and superior in many ways to the stage production.

Mr. Carle is one of America's greatest comedians and never fails to bring a laugh out of ordinary situations by his droll manner. The picture will be at the Strand one day only.

Diplomats.

(From Judge.)

"Old Millyuns says that since he made his pile of money he feels like a neutral nation."

"Why is that?"

"Because he has so many displomatic relations."

POLK AND PAULDING WANT TO HAVE LINK ON DIXIE HIGHWAY

Rome, Ga., March 28.—(Special.)—The people of Polk and Paulding counties have started out to obtain a link of the Dixie highway. They have been in communication with officials of the highway association here, and will hold a meeting to stir up matters, which will take place in Dallas or Rockmart April 12. The proposed route will go from Rome to Atlanta via Lindale, Seney, Aragon, Rockmart, Yorkville, Dallas and Hiram.

Advocates of the new road note that there are two routes of the highway from Chicago to Miami, with the exception of forty miles between Cartersville and Atlanta, where the two routes converge and traverse the same territory. They say further that in one instance a third or central route between Macon and Jacksonville was recognized. They promise the Dixie Highway association that they will build the road to come up to specifications and do it in a reasonable time. The distance from Rome to Atlanta by the proposed new route is about the same as via Cartersville.

Floyd county has already built a road from Rome to the Polk county line, and there is a fair road from there to Dallas. Between Dallas and Atlanta there are a few bad stretches, but advocates of the new route state that there are no unusual engineering difficulties, and that they believe the road can be brought up to the specifications in a few weeks.

TRAIL OF ROBBERS LEADS TO ATLANTA

at the Atlanta postoffice, containing the check for its recovery from the baggage room. One of the Atlanta suspects is then said to have gone to the postoffice, got the check and then claimed the suit case.

It was also stated that the man who called for the suit case, gave his address as 61 Brookline street, the Rentz residence.

A special dispatch from Cincinnati Tuesday afternoon stated that in the possession of Carl Rentz was found a key to the suit case, which, he stated, was the property of an "Uncle Charlie" in Atlanta.

Key to Suit Case.

The theory advanced by investigators is that the Rentz key unlocks the suit case being held in Grand Rapids.

As soon as Inspector Griswald, of the Cincinnati postoffice, had found the key in possession of Rentz, he wired Inspector Graham, of Atlanta, stating that the key had been found. He had already received a message from Graham asking about such a key.

Inspector Graham replied:

"Important that suit case key be preserved. Charley describes it as about one inch long, made by himself from a trunk key filed down," which shows, according to statements made here, that Charley Harrison is in the custody of local officers and officers believe the suit case in Grand Rapids is his property, taken there by young Rentz.

It is supposed, that following the train robbery, the currency, over $100,000 worth unsigned, was brought to Atlanta by automobile and then distributed from this place.

Several months ago, it was reported Tuesday, $27,000 in unsigned currency was dug up from the ground where it had been buried in an iron pipe in San Antonio, Texas, where Jeff Harrison is under arrest.

Statements were made Tuesday, which would lead investigators to believe that the money as kept during the time which has elapsed since the robbery, would have to be signed in some manner to be passed successfully.

It is thought that when efforts were made to sign that money or to have it stamped, it would be necessary for the holders to have some kind of a machine.

Rentz had, according to his mother, some kind of a "stencil machine," which he had invented. It was some kind of an automatic patent, his mother stated Monday night.

Bohannan, when seen at police headquarters, refused to talk concerning his arrest. He told police officers Tuesday morning that he was being held in connection with "some kind of money business."

Mrs. Rentz still insisted Tuesday that her son had no part in the train robbery, although she stated that she could not understand the arrest of Harrison here in Atlanta. She insisted that he had been taken away from there by officers Monday.

"I haven't heard a thing from Carl," said Mrs. Rentz. "If we don't hear from him by the last of the week, his father is going to Cincinnati to see about what they are holding him for."

Harrison Tells Story.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 28.—(Special.)—Dick Harrison, alias John Evans, arrested here Saturday by United States postal inspectors, today confessed that he was the "brains" of a gang of four train robbers who held up an express train near Stanton, W. Va., six months ago and secured $100,000.

While Harrison's confession is being kept secret by the government authorities, they say he detailed other robberies besides the one in the east, and that the total loot secured in the past year by the band has been upwards of half a million dollars.

"Jeff" Harrison, arrested some time ago in San Antonio, Texas; Carl Rentz, arrested in Cincinnati Monday, following his departure from Grand Rapids just prior to the arrest of Harrison, and another who is still at large, were his companions in the West Virginia robbery, according to Harrison.

Harrison also told where the stolen loot has been hidden and it is expected that nearly all of the $100,000 will be recovered.

Harrison did not confess until he was told by a physician who attended him after his arrest here that he was suffering from an incurable malady and his death is but a matter of weeks. He talked to secure freedom for his wife, who was placed under arrest at the time he was taken into custody.

Almost helpless from a paralytic strike, resulting from a bullet wound in the back, received in his escape following the West Virginia robbery, Harrison was carried on a cot to the county jail today.

It is not believed he will live until he can be taken east for trial.

IN ILL HEALTH, VET CUTS OWN THROAT. LOCKED IN ROOM

Mark H. McCombs, aged 67, an inmate of the Confederate Soldiers' home, committed suicide at Decatur in the Jossey hotel by cutting his throat with a razor late Monday night or early Tuesday morning. His act is said to have been on account of despondency over ill health. His body was found Tuesday morning.

McCombs, according to reports from the soldiers' home, left there late Monday afternoon, after packing a grip with a few of his belongings.

He arrived at the Jossey hotel late in the afternoon and after eating supper got a room and retired, telling the clerk that he was tired and did not want to be disturbed until noon Tuesday.

Passing a window to McComb's room early Tuesday morning, Manager McCrary, of the hotel, looked in and saw blood all over the floor. He rushed into the room after unlocking it with a pass key.

The body of McCombs was lying on the bed, a towel wrapped around his neck. The razor with which he had ended his life was lying on the floor where it had dropped from his lifeless hand. On the floor and under the body on the bed were rags, with a wash bowl on the floor into which the aged man's life blood had drained.

According to reports from the soldiers' home, where the body was taken, the aged veteran is survived by his wife and one brother in Milledgeville, and one son in Millen. He served all through the civil war under General Ed Johnson in Twelfth Georgia regiment.

RENFROE AND MADDOX CRITICISED IN REPORT

Probe Committee Is Practically Agreed—Farlinger and Chambers Will Also Be Censured.

Members of the probe committee who have been investigating charges of alleged official misconduct of certain city officials are virtually agreed upon a report.

It is certain that Councilman J. N. Renfroe will be censured in the report and that former Alderman J. W. Maddox will be severely criticised.

The investigation grew out of the Tazewell street paving contract. It was alleged that J. W. Maddox, former alderman, was the author of the resolution authorizing the paving of the street. The contract was subsequently let to Henry Maddox, brother of the former alderman, and it was alleged that J. W. Maddox was the real party at interest.

The officials coming in for especial censure will be Councilman J. N. Renfroe, Councilman A. W. Farlinger and Purchasing Agent W. E. Chambers.

It will also condemn the recklessness with which city automobiles are driven by employees of the various departments. The police department will receive criticism for a reckless and wasteful use of gasoline.

The report will also contain a number of recommendations for improving conditions which the probe committee investigated.

The Eternal Question.

What to Do to Get Fat and Increase Weight

The Real Cause of Thinness

Most people eat from four to six pounds of good solid fat-making food every day and still do not increase in weight one ounce, while on the other hand many of the plump, chunky folks eat very lightly and keep gaining all the time. It's all bosh to say that this is the nature of the individual. It isn't Nature's way at all.

Most thin people stay thin because their powers of assimilation are defective. They absorb just enough of the food they eat to maintain life and a semblance of health and strength. Stuffing won't help them. A dozen meals a day won't make them gain a single "stay there" pound. All the fat-producing elements of their food just stay there in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste. What such people need is something that will prepare these fatty food elements so that their blood can absorb them and deposit them all about the body—something, too, that will multiply their red blood corpuscles and increase their blood's carrying power.

For such a condition it is well to recommend eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is not, as some believe, a patented drug, but is simply a careful combination of six of the most effective and powerful assimilative and flesh building elements known to chemistry. It is absolutely harmless, yet has been wonderfully effective and a single tablet eaten with each meal often, according to reports of users, has the effect of increasing the weight of a thin man or woman from three to five pounds a week. Sargol is sold by Jacobs' Pharmacy and other good druggists everywhere on a positive guarantee of weight increase or money back.

Explains Why Coffee Hurts Many

Dr. W. A. Evans, prominent Chicago physician, who edits the "How to Keep Well" columns of the Chicago Tribune, said in that publication, under date of March 7, 1915:

> "Coffee is a drug. Those who are addicted to its use are drug addicts." "From the standpoint of public hygiene the coffee question is worth while. It is the most widespread form of drug addiction."

Some coffee drinkers go on for years without seeming harm, but with others the telltale effects of the drug, caffeine, in coffee, show in various ills and discomforts, such as headache, biliousness, indigestion, nervousness, sleeplessness and heart disturbance.

When the health of a coffee-drinker begins to suffer it's high time to quit the coffee.

The change to

is easy and pleasant. Better health usually follows, and a ten days' trial proves.

Postum comes in two forms. The original Postum Cereal—must be well boiled—15c and 25c packages. Instant Postum—a soluble powder—is made in the cup. No boiling required. 30c and 50c tins.

The two forms of Postum are equally delicious, and the cost per cup is about the same.
